RAIL UNIONS DELAY STRIKE ACTION

Storm Damages Area Power Lines

Wind, Hail Hit City District

Roseland Home Demolished

A short, but severe wind, rain and hail storm, which buffeted the Mansfield area late yesterday caused extensive damage to power lines when lightning struck a 23,000-volt feeder line on Burns street.

The wind blew down a large tree on West Second street near the city building and demolished a small home on Herring road in Roseland. Five persons in the house escaped injury.

R. D. Iden, distribution manager of the Ohio Public Service, said electricity to all rural areas, except those east of Mansfield, was cut off when the pole holding the feeder line was damaged. Trimble road, Woodville and Cline avenue substations were out of operation.

In the city, power remained off from 4:34 p. m. to 6:36 p. m. in the area south of Glessner avenue, west of Main street and in South Boulevards. Service to most homes was reported by 7:15 p. m., Iden said.

C. L. Lisle, equipment superintendent at the Mansfield Telephone company, said between 100 and 150 telephones in various sections of the city were reported out of order this morning as a result of the storm. Breakdown was a result of tangled service lines to residents, he said.

ONLY ROOF LEFT

Today, the family of Fred Poland, Herring road, huddled together in the home of a neighbor. Their home was in shambles, only the roof remaining intact.

"I just laid the baby on the bed," Mrs. Poland said, "and I happened to look at the wall. I just had time to tell my husband there was a big crack in the wall when the whole house collapsed on us."

Poland, a core department worker at the Ohio Brass company, said he was "thankful the family got out without a scratch." The new furniture and all clothing which was moved in only two days before was water soaked. The Polands' dog was found alive in the wreckage today, reluctant to leave his home.

Adj. R. L. Gutterman of the Volunteers of America, said he would try to find temporary lodging for the family today. Emergency clothing needed by the family until they can reclaim the water soaked garments, includes: size 14 clothing for the mother; boys' clothes, sizes 6½, 3, and 2, and men's work clothes, size 28.

Faces Bribe Indictments

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Ernest L. Molnar, former police lieutenant recently fired from the force, was to be arraigned today on grand jury charges that he accepted more than $85,000 in bribes from two policy operators.

The 11-count indictment returned yesterday accused him of soliciting and accepting the amounts between 1939 and 1947.

A veteran of 25 years on the force, Molnar was suspended last month along with Police Sgt. Richard P. Ford and Patrolman William P. Myers on charges of association with policy racketeers.

Molnar's discharge was upheld by the civil service commission, but the other two policemen yesterday were ordered reinstated to their jobs.

Ohio Freight Rates Higher

COLUMBUS—(INS)—It will cost shippers 10 per cent more to send goods from one Ohio point to another after May 6.

The state utilities commission granted the additional 10 per cent increase late Tuesday.

Commission Rates Superintendent William G. Blake said the increase would cost Ohio shippers an extra 18 million dollars per year.

One Taft Writes As Other Talks

DAYTON — (INS) — A young general assignment reporter for the Cincinnati Times-Star savored his first political assignment today.

His name is Lloyd Taft. He is 25. He covered the third district congressional tour of Sen. Robert A. Taft, candidate for President and the young reporter's father.

Another Taft son, Robert, 32, also watched his father in action in Dayton and Hamilton.

Arab Scout Troops Move Into Jericho

Jews Press Attack On Port of Jaffa

JERUSALEM— (AP) —King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan said today scout troops of his Arab legion have occupied Jericho, less than 20 miles northeast of Jerusalem.

Jewish sources in Haifa said Arab legion gunners shelled a Jewish settlement near Naharaim, on the Trans-Jordan frontier. Ten Jews were reported killed.

Other reports to Haifa said the Jewish militia Haganah captured two police fortresses near the Trans-Jordan frontier in the night. The Jews fought with Arabs, they said, after British forces abandoned the fortresses as part of the general British withdrawal incident to ending of the mandate May 15. The fortresses are at the all-Arab town of Samakh and at Jisr el Majamie.

The Jewish underground, Irgun Zvai Leumi, said it had captured the entire Manshieh quarter of the all-Arab port of Jaffa adjoining Tel Aviv. The battle for Jaffa rose to new intensity Irgun and Haganah fighters, newly allied, fought side by side in four key suburbs of the city. The Jews won control of Haifa last week.

It was officially announced in Jerusalem that British army units had gone into action this morning "to break up the attack by Jews on Jaffa."

Jericho, destroyed and cursed by the prophet Joshua in biblical times, lies 20 miles west of Amman, Trans-Jordan capital. Abdullah has said he will personally lead armies of Trans-Jordan, Syria, Iraq and Lebanon into Palestine this week to fight Zionism.

Death Ends Radio Career Of Breneman

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Tom Breneman, who turned odd hats, orchids and kisses for old ladies into a top-flight radio program, dropped dead of a heart attack today. He was 47 years old.

He had just finished breakfast, and was preparing to leave for the studio for his early morning "Breakfast in Hollywood" broadcast, said his wife, former Stage Actress Billie Dunn. She said she heard a thud, and found him lying on the floor of his Encino bedroom.

Breneman only recently returned to the air after a month's vacation at Palm Springs, ordered by his doctor because of a slight heart condition.

More than 600 persons, gathered for his broadcast in a new restaurant on Vine street which he opened only a few months ago, were shocked at the news of his passing.

City May Curtail Lawn Sprinkling

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn said today that if the city's water supply runs low this summer, the city probably will request residents to restrict their use of water for sprinkling lawns.

"There is nothing at present to indicate that this step will have to be taken," he said, "but the possibility exists, nevertheless."

"If the city's water supply gets too low, we will ask the people voluntarily to restrict lawn sprinkling to conserve water for washing, bathing and cooking purposes."

BABY ABANDONED

LISBON —(AP)— A month-old baby girl, wrapped in two blankets, was found abandoned on a doorstep, police reported yesterday.

Mystery Seen In Beating

Police Probe Attack In Home

A mysterious attack on a McPherson street housewife, who was brutally beaten about the head while alone in her home yesterday afternoon, was under police investigation today.

The victim, Mrs. Joseph Bookmyer, 569 McPherson street, interrupted a neighborhood party line telephone conversation to call for help at 2:30 p. m.

Police, summoned by neighbors, found Mrs. Bookmyer in the bedroom of her home in a state of severe shock, her eyes blackened and severe bruises covering her face.

Patrolman Glenn Adams said the woman was too hysterical to give a coherent story of the beating but that she kept insisting that a man entered her home and beat her. Detectives planned to question her further today.

CONDITION FAIR

The victim was reported in only "fair" condition at General hospital today.

Police said the woman was reported to have been in ill health for the past several weeks and that she was confined to her bed last week.

Evidence of any struggle, police said, was covered up by the fact that the home is being re-decorated.

Mrs. Bookmyer's husband, a plasterer, was at work when the attack occurred, police said. Officers said Mrs. Bookmyer is about 40 years old.

Start Work On Station

Official ground breaking ceremonies were to be held at 1 p. m. today for the new $121,000 high lift pumping station of the Clear Fork water project.

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn, Engineer John Cunning of the Richland Construction company and other city officials planned to attend the function.

The pumping station, to be built by the Richland construction company, will be located at the intersection of the Lexington-Alta and Gass roads, near the end of Cook road.

This unit, along with the 24-inch pipeline from the site of the pumping station to the Woodland reservoir, will eventually carry water from the Clear Fork dam to the city.

The pipeline and pumping station will come into service before the reservoir is ready for use however. The city plans to connect the present wells to the new line and thereby deliver an additional one to two million gallons more of water per day. At present, water from the wells is pumped by the Maxwell pumping station through 12 and 14-inch lines to the Woodland reservoir.

French Pass Army Bill

PARIS —(INS)— The French cabinet streamlined its general staff today, and approved a 1948 armed forces budget totaling $1,200,000,000.

Announcement of the general staff shakeup was made in a communique following the cabinet meeting.

The decree re-groups the general staffs for war, navy and air, and creates a combined general staff for the armed forces.

Establishment of this general staff aroused immediate speculation on whether France is patterning her armed forces after the new American plan for a unified command.

The step also raised the question of whether there is a possibility that France and other signatories of the Brussels pact may standardize their armaments with those of the United States.

PLANE REPORTED MISSING

WASHINGTON—(INS)—The Air Force announced today that an AT-6 plane with two officers aboard is missing on a flight between Chicago and Washington and that a widespread search has been ordered.

300 Educators Meet Here

Simpson's Lighting Cited as Ideal

More than 300 educators from Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia joined today in an all-day school lighting conference at John Simpson junior high school. It was the first such conference ever held in the United States to discuss school lighting.

Delegates visited two Simpson classrooms which have been equipped with the latest school furniture and lighting as a demonstration in the coordination of classroom design.

An almost perfect visual environment for studying has been achieved in these rooms, according to T. D. Wakefield of the F. W. Wakefield Brass company, school lighting specialists in Vermillion.

The rooms are equipped with low desks to fit the size of pupils. Double window diffusers of fiber glass take the place of window shades. They are designed to distribute daylight evenly in the room. Overhead fluorescent lights provide artificial illumination. Walls are painted with high-reflective quality paints.

U. S. OFFICIAL SPEAKS

W. L. Miller, superintendent of schools in Mansfield, welcomed the delegates and introduced Dr. N. E. Viles, specialist for school plant management in the United States Office of Education.

Dr. Viles set up five points for planning new school buildings and modernizing old ones. They are: (1) protection of the lives and bodies of children; (2) protection of the health of children; (3) curricular adequacy; (4) economical construction and operation, and (5) expansibility and flexibility.

Saying, "We expect at least six million more children in elementary and secondary schools by 1955," Dr. Viles asserted, "You can't afford to wait until you get new buildings; you must modernize the old ones."

"If a building can't be made safe, it should be abandoned," he added.

Dr. Viles was followed by E. J. Arnold, supervisor of school plant rehabilitation of the Ohio State department of education, who spoke on "Ohio's Lighting Improvement Program."

Following a lunch in the school cafeteria, delegates will attend an afternoon program.

Boycott Hits Meat Firms

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The CIO called today for a nationwide buyers' strike against meat produced by six packing firms whose union workers walked out 44 days ago in a pay fight.

CIO President Philip Murray appealed to his organization's 6,000,000 members and to the public at large to boycott products of the six firms.

Murray listed them as the Swift, Armour, Cudahy, Wilson, Morrell and Rath companies. They have been operating on a partial basis since the March 16 walkout of 10,000 members of the CIO Packinghouse Workers Union.

"It is important," Murray said in a statement, "that the packing companies feel the whiplash of public opinion to move them from their arrogant position of refusing to pay any attention to the living needs of their workers."

The CIO chief urged his unions to enlist housewives in "a nationwide insistence that we will eat no scab meat."

Massachusetts Primaries Dull

BOSTON —(INS)— The Massachusetts presidential primaries appeared today to have produced little more than a possible revision of the state's election laws.

With both Democratic and Republican delegates to the presidential conventions unpledged, less than seven per cent of the bay state's 2,400,000 voters bothered to cast ballots.

Greer Goes On Trial

Three Judges Hear Double Slaying Case

The murder trial of Clarence Greer, 31, opened today in common pleas court before a three-judge court. Greer pleaded guilty last week to two counts of first degree murder.

Hearing the evidence are Judges G. E. Kalbfleisch, Clarence U. Ahl of Bucyrus, and Ralph Sugrue of Tiffin. In pleas of guilty to first-degree murder, law provides that the case go before three judges. The courtroom was jammed as the hearing opened.

Prosecutor Theodore Lutz presented the opening argument for the state, outlining the events of Feb. 9 at Greer's home, 203 East Fourth street which resulted in the deaths of Mrs. Ella Owens, 31, and her brother, Ezell Taylor, 35.

Jacob Wagenhals, attorney for Greer, in his opening argument, asserted that Greer has pleaded guilty and that the issue is the degree of the crime. H. Eugene Ryan is Greer's second attorney.

Wagenhals said that when Greer came to Mansfield for a second time in 1942 he met Ella Taylor (Mrs. Owens) and that their friendship developed. While living at the East Fourt street address Wagenhals said she cut him with a knife, but he took the blame.

Wagenhals quoted Greer as saying he overheard Taylor say on the night before the crime that "they (Mrs. Owens and Taylor)

Dem Leader Resigns Post

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Gael Sullivan resigned today as executive director of the Democratic National committee. He said he will become associated with the Theater Owners of America.

Friends said they understand Sullivan will receive about $50,000 a year in his new job. His resignation is effective May 10.

The 43-year-old Chicagoan joined the Democratic committee in February, 1947, after resigning as second assistant postmaster general.

Bromfield Writes Greatest Book

'Malabar Farm' Is Rural Classic

By KEN WOODMAN

Although it may not seem so at first glance, it is quite possible that Louis Bromfield has written his greatest book in "Malabar Farm" which is being released over the nation today.

Before he gets really going in the book, the reader may feel that he has come upon a somewhat weightier sequel to "Pleasant Valley" which the Richland county author-farmer wrote several years ago.

There are five chapters from Bromfield's casually written Malabar journal, there are several papers on various phases of the new agriculture, and there are delightful chapters telling the story of a dog, a bull and a flood.

But as the reader progresses he is suddenly overwhelmed with the feeling that in this smooth, direct writing, Bromfield has achieved a solid—actually a definitive—report on the past, present and the future of American farming. It is a report on the future because it shows clearly that unless Americans begin restoring the soil the nation will become a wasteland and unable to support its own population, let alone help the rest of the world.

On the issue of helping other nations Bromfield emphasizes a significant point: "Actually each huge shipment of food out of this or any other country contains many tons of calcium, potassium, and phosphorus which will not be returned. Much of it is exported to nations which in the past have dissipated their own supplies. . . . The steady drain of fertility is probably in the end more costly

Stassen Does It Again

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) Industrial Pennsylvania, following recent Nebraska and Wisconsin trends, today gave White House hopeful Harold E. Stassen a slim but apparently conclusive margin in the state's Republican presidential popularity contest.

The former Minnesota governor piled up a surprising 5,800 write-in vote lead over New York Governor Thomas E. Dewey with 6,223 precincts of 8,262 reported in yesterday's preferential primary.

Stassen had 65,273; Dewey 59,515. Trailing far back in third place with 37,199 votes was U. S. Senator Edward Martin, the Keystone state's favorite son candidate.

Stassen won thumping majorities in the state's two industrial metropolitan centers, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. He led Dewey by nearly 12,000 in these two cities.

M'ARTHUR STRONG

Gen. Douglas MacArthur also showed surprising strength. He polled 12,904 votes to take fourth place in the contest. Ohio's U. S. Senator Robert A. Taft was fifth with 12,275.

Michigan's Senator Arthur Vandenberg had 6,936, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower 3,952, Henry A. Wallace 1,124, Pennsylvania's Governor James H. Duff 659 and Governor Earl Warren of California 567.

The vote in the primary does not bind the state's 73 Republican delegates. They go into the national convention unpledged.

President Truman was the only name on the Democratic ballot. He rolled up 210,184 votes in 6,223 precincts. Eisenhower got 3,247 Democratic write-in votes while Wallace polled 3,247.

Arabian Oil Charge High

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A Senate committee declared today that the navy was overcharged at least $30,000,000 on its wartime purchase of Arabian oil.

The committee put the blame on what it called the Arabian American Oil company's "avaricious desire for enormous profits" and a government "lack of responsibility."

The company, known as Aramco, retorted that its price policies have saved the navy more than $26,500,000. It said "the benefits to the nation's economy . . . have only just begun."

The congressional charges were outlined in a windup report by the Senate war investigating committee. The committee held lengthy hearings on the wartime oil deals between the navy and Aramco, which operates the Saudi Arabian concession.

The report declared that the company "received all the benefits from more than $99,000,000 word of lend-lease aid given to Saudi Arabia "and in return ignored their promises to sell oil to the government at a nominal profit.

"The United States government was overcharged between $30,000,000 and $38,000,000 on sales made to the navy by Aramco and its affiliates, between Jan. 1, 1942, and June 30, 1947, the committee said. It added:

"The committee believes that the navy department wholly failed to exercise its wartime procurement authority . . . in awarding contracts to Aramco . . . at prices which the navy representatives admitted were excessive."

Arline Ready To Try Again

NEW YORK —(AP)— Four days after her divorce from husband No. 5, Arline Judge got a license yesterday for her sixth trip to the altar. She and George Ross, jr., 31-year-old well-to-do insurance man, plan to be married soon.

Her most recent "ex" is Henry J. (Bob) Topping, who married Screen Star Lana Turner Monday. Arline, 36, and Ross—he's over six feet three inches tall—held a news conference yesterday.

"You can't say I've been a coward," she quipped.

New Hope For Truce Indicated

Government Calls Parley

CHICAGO —(UP)— Three operating rail unions today set May 11 as a date for a nationwide rail strike but the government arranged new negotiations at the last minute, and official announcement of the strike date was cancelled.

Frank P. Douglass of the National Mediation board announced at Washington that the unions and the railroads had agreed to meet with him in Chicago at 10 a. m. tomorrow. He said he would fly to Chicago for the renewed negotiations.

The strike date was announced today at Cleveland by a representative of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. He said the strike by the three brotherhoods was scheduled to begin at 6 a. m. (local time zones) on May 11 against all of the nation's railroads.

Official announcement of a strike date had been scheduled in Chicago at 10:30 a. m. (CDT). Twenty minutes after the deadline, and less than an hour after the Cleveland announcement, a spokesman for J. P. Shields, assistant grand engineer of the Locomotive Engineers, and C. H. Keenen, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, said the official announcement had been held up. The third union involved is the Switchmen's Union.

"There has been a change in plans and no announcement will be made now of a date for a nationwide rail strike," the spokesman said.

NO KNOWLEDGE OF CHANGE

Union spokesmen at Cleveland said they did not know anything about the "change in plans" and that May 11 still was the correct date. However, it was believed that they had not been informed of the Washington developments.

In his statement, Douglass said that failure of the unions and railroads to reach agreement by themselves "represents a serious threat to the economy of the nation in that a stoppage of all rail transportation in the country may follow."

He said that the new negotiations were the only thing he saw that the government could do to head off a rail strike.

"We've got to succeed," he said, "for this is the last thing we can do about it."

A strike by the 150,000 key railroad employes could reach into every home and effect the lives of more than 140,000,000 Americans. It would cut the lifelines of industry and commerce. If the strike continued, food shortages would develop, factories would close and millions would be thrown into idleness.

The nation got a taste of such a strike in May, 1946, when 250,000 engineers and trainmen struck for 48 hours. In that short time, America's 227,000-mile network of rails was crippled, many industries curtailed operations and housewives in some big cities made runs on meager food stocks. It was the nation's worst labor crisis.

New Reuther Clue Sought

DETROIT—(INS)—Detroit police expressed hope today that President Walter P. Reuther of the United Automobile Workers—CIO, himself, can provide some clue to the marauder who attempted to assassinate him a week ago.

Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy said he will interview the union leader as soon as physicians permit on the possibility that he may come through with something which will assume major significance to the detectives handling the case.

The latest suspect was released during the night after police established he had been working when Reuther was felled by a shotgun blast fired through the kitchen window of his Detroit home on April 20.

The mystery informant from Toledo, O., who told police the unidentified suspect spoke of shooting Reuther while carrying a gun, also was freed.

Taylor Enters Ohio Campaign

CLEVELAND —(INS)— United States Senator Glen H. Taylor, (D-ID.), brings his third party campaign to Northeastern Ohio today.

The vice presidential running mate of Henry A. Wallace will make four speaking appearances in his campaign for petitions to get the third party ticket on the Ohio November ballot.

Labor Crisis Threatens At Oak Ridge

President Declares National Emergency

By MAX HALL
(Associated Press Labor Reporter)
(Second of a Series)

WASHINGTON — Labor-management troubles in the immense atomic plants at Oak Ridge, Tenn., have reached the point where President Truman has declared a national emergency.

Here are the main causes of those troubles to date:

1. Differences in the labor policies of the various companies that come and go as operators of the Oak Ridge plants.

2. Rivalry between AFL and CIO groups, each constantly fearing the other will get a better deal.

The Atomic Energy commission is urgently negotiating with AFL, CIO and management leaders, trying to win agreement on an overall atomic labor policy that would insure against work stoppages.

The wartime ban on recognition of unions at Oak Ridge was lifted by the army two years ago. Instantly the CIO and AFL scrambled into a rough-and-tumble race for members. Plant elections were held. The results:

1. The CIO won at uranium plant K-25, the "gaseous diffusion" plant operated by Carbide & Carbon Chemicals corporation.

2. The AFL won at plant X-10, the Oak Ridge national laboratory, then operated by Monsanto Chemical company.

3. "No union" won at uranium plant Y-12, the "electromagnetic separation" plant, then operated by Tennessee Eastman.

All three plants now are operated by Carbide & Carbon.

STRIKE AVERTED

An AFL strike was averted March 19 by an 80-day court order under the national emergency provision of the Taft-Hartley act. The law says this injunction shall be lifted not later than June 7.

But the first Oak Ridge labor crisis occurred last December. It involved the CIO chemical workers.

A year earlier, in December 1946, this union reached an agreement with Carbide & Carbon, but in January 1947 the union asked for changes in wages, holiday pay, sick leave and other provisions.

The demand was based on the belief that the AFL at A-10 had obtained a superior contract from Monsanto.

The CIO union and the Carbide corporation met more than 60 times in 1947 without getting anywhere. On Dec. 4 the union gave its committee the authority to call a strike. The contract was to expire Dec. 9.

RELATIONS IMPROVE

Federal Mediation Director Cyrus S. Ching conferred with CIO officials here, and the negotiations were extended. A new agreement was reached Dec. 11. Relations have improved since then.

Meantime the AFL crisis was building up at the X-10 laboratory.

This institution was first operated by DuPont. DuPont was followed by the University of Chicago and then Monsanto, and those contractors kept the same employment policies that had been set by DuPont.

The University of Chicago was preparing to take over again on Jan. 1, but in December the plans were changed and the contract was awarded to Carbide & Carbon, effective March 1.

The Atomic Trades & Labor Council (AFL) had a contract with Monsanto that expired Dec. 18. Bargaining for a new contract was thrown into confusion by the change in management and other factors.

Carbide began negotiating with the council on Feb. 4. But they couldn't agree. A strike was set for midnight March 19.

SEEKS UNIFORM WAGE

On March 5, Mr. Truman invoked the Taft-Hartley emergency provision for the first time. He appointed a board of inquiry which found six main issues in the dispute but said all six were "manifestations of one central difference in objective."

The union wants to preserve the same advantage in wages that plant X-10 had held over plant K-25 since the DuPont days. The company is trying to bring about uniform wage rates in all three Oak Ridge plants.

Both the union and the company want uniform welfare benefits in all plants but they can't agree on the basis for the uniform plan.

The union's last wage proposal was for a blanket raise of 15 cents an hour. The company offered an average raise of 10 cents, with the raises ranging from 1½ to 17½ cents.

Negotiations have been marking time in the hope that the Atomic Energy commission will complete an overall policy that may provide a basis for settlement.

Indians Overflow Their Reservations

Each Sioux Is His Brother's Keeper

By HAL BOYLE

But the grandsons of Sitting Bull's warriors carry it so far they are eating one another out of tent and tepee.

The old Sioux rule is:

"Share whatever you have equally with your brother." And everybody in the tribe is a brother.

It wasn't a bad rule in the old days when tribesmen hunted the buffalo together and divided the kill. But the principle doesn't work out so well since the white man came and changed the pattern of their roaming life.

The Sioux tribesmen, gaining in numbers after a long decline, have overflowed their reservations — the thin pastures, left them by their conquerors. They are leaving by the hundreds to find work in the white man's cities to earn food.

SHARE HIS FORTUNE

Here's the hitch:

As soon as one Sioux finds a job all the others in the neighborhood move in to share his good fortune. They eat him down to their level, and then the whole bunch moves on to the next Sioux with a sou.

"Nobody cares who pays," said Mrs. Ellen Donovan, county nurse, "they just eat until the food is gone, they would share it with anybody — even with us. They live altogether for today, and have no care for tomorrow."

Mrs. Donovan and Dr. Ben Sedelaeck, superintendent of the Sioux sanitorium, worry over health conditions among 2,500 Indians who have set up camps along Rapid Creek, which threads through this trade center for the Black Hills area. The tuberculosis rate is high.

EVERY CHILD ILL

Last winter every child in the Indian camp had pneumonia.

"They don't complain," said Dr. Sedelaeck. "They don't even ask for a doctor until the sick Indian is so far gone we often can't do anything for him."

The Sioux left the warpath only 50 years ago. Their camps here are a sorry compromise between their old nomadic life and modern sanitation. There is no such thing as indoor sanitation. And beef entrails hang drying from tree limbs.

The children are dirty. The camp areas are living dump heaps. Their ancestors were a clean and healthy people. When their camping site became fouled, they moved on.

The Sioux of today can't do that. And if he could move on he probably wouldn't. He likes to stay where he can see the bright lights and gawk at the tourists.

And, of course, he has to live close to the places where he can sell his labor—sawmills, packing plants, construction jobs.

For all their poverty they are a happy people who stoically conceal their pain—Sioux women commonly don't even call in a midwife in childbirth. At one camp I asked one wrinkled old crone why she laughed so much.

"Some day I'll be dead and won't be here," she replied through an interpreter. "So while I am I like to have fun."

St. Louis Browns Move Into Second Place

Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

CLEVELAND Browns' officials expect a record throng of 900 coaches at their third annual high school grid clinic Friday and Saturday in the Carter hotel in Cleveland. . . . More than 700 reservations have already been received including those of Augie Morningstar and his capable crew of Senior high assistants. . . . The only Tyger face that will be missing will be that of Harry Mehock. . . . Merry Harry and his trackmen have dates at the Cleveland West Tech relays Friday and the Newark relays Saturday. . . . Although the clinic is primarily for high school mentors, upwards of 50 college coaches will be on hand. . . . Paul Brown and his staff will bare the secrets of the Browns' T formation to the assemblage. . . . At the big banquet Friday night, Fritz Howell of the Associated Press will be the toastmaster. . . . Ed Bang, sports editor of the Cleveland News, and John "Ox" DaGrosa, Temple coach, will be the speakers. . . . An international touch has been added. . . . Duncan Hoople, coach of Sir Adam Beck college of London, Ontario, will attend.

★

DEAN HAHN, Mansfield first sacker, left today to join Three Rivers in the Canadian-American league. . . . He will pick up the club in Maryland and finish the spring grind with it. . . . Three Rivers is located near Quebec. The Class C Can-Am loop opens next week. . . . Hahn belongs to the Brooklyn Dodgers. . . . The Cleveland Indians are carrying quite a load of outfield talent—on the bench. . . . Larry Doby, Thurman Tucker and Allie Clark are the starters. . . . The cubs include Hank Edwards, Dale Mitchell, Walt Judnich, Flat Pat Seerey and Hal Peck, all pretty good fly-chasers.

★

PETE LESWICK of the Cleveland Barons has been named to the American Hockey league all-star team. . . . The Barons' Roger Bessette was placed as goalie on the second squad while John Holota, Ab DeMarco, Bob Solinger and Bobby Carse gained honorable mention. . . . Coaltown, the No. 2 Kentucky Derby choice, was slated for a final "shake-down race today. . . . But when he was entered the other owners scratched their horses and the race had to be cancelled. . . . Bob Muncrief, Cleveland Indians pitcher, is the youngest of a 14-child family.

Two Sport Figures Speak at Fetes

BUCYRUS — Scheduled for speaking engagements in Crawford county tonight are two of northern Ohio's most outstanding sportsmen in their respective fields. Both will speak before rural athletic groups honoring basketball squads.

Bill Veeck, president of the Cleveland Indians, will appear at Sulphur Springs and Harold "Andy" Anderson, Bowling Green university basketball coach, will speak at Holmes Liberty

Win Third Straight From Tigers

By JOE REICHLER
(AP Sports Writer)

Tomorrow the beautiful dream may be over for the St. Louis Browns and Chicago Cubs, but today the major leagues' two "ugly ducklings" are riding high.

A look at the standings shows the Browns and Cubs, generally tabbed as the 1948 cellar-dwellers, perched in second place in their respective leagues.

Each club has a winning streak of three games still alive.

The Browns whipped the Detroit Tigers for the second straight day yesterday, 9-8, for their fourth win in six starts. The Cubs knocked off Ewell Blackwell and the Cincinnati Reds 7-2, for their fourth triumph in seven outings.

A short time ago the Browns were being severely criticized for selling most of their stars to the rich Boston Red Sox. A solid choice for the basement, the 1947 last placers were expected to win even fewer games than the 59 they copped last year.

So, while the Browns are only a couple of steps behind the league leading Cleveland Indians, the Red Sox are struggling to stay out of the cellar.

CUBS ALSO HOT

The criticism against the Cubs was that Manager Charlie Grimm was chained down with too many players who have outlived their usefulness in the majors.

Well, the Cubs' vets apparently have plenty of kick left and Chicago's pitching has been excellent. Not one of the team's losses can be traced to the hurling. Two of the Cubs' triumphs have been notched by first year hurlers—Cliff Chambers and Bob McCall. The latter bested Blackwell yesterday, allowing only eight hits, all singles.

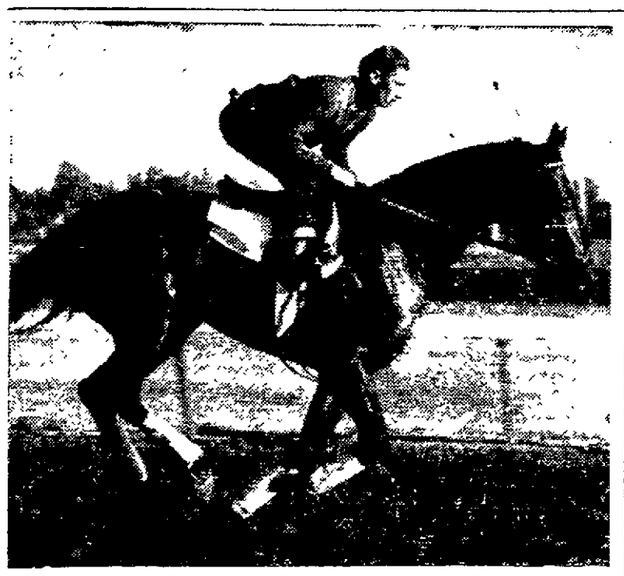
Continuing their terrific extra-base clouting, the New York Giants shellacked the Philadelphia Phils, 7-1, behind the three-hit flinging of Larry Jansen. Curt Simmons, the Phils' $60,000 bonus beauty, was the victim of the Giants' assault. A home run by Walker Cooper with two mates aboard in the third inning was the most damaging blow. The win, New York's sixth straight, gave the National league leaders a two-game advantage over the Cubs.

BUMS BEATEN

The Braves made it two in a row over Brooklyn as Charley (Red) Barrett limited the Dodgers to six hits in pitching Boston to a 3-2 victory. Bob Elliott, the league's most valuable player last season, drove in all Boston runs with a home run and two singles off Rex Barney. It was the Dodgers' third straight defeat.

The New York Yankees turned back the Philadelphia Athletics, 4-2. Karl Drews received credit for the victory, but needed assistance from Lefty Joe Page. The ace relief pitcher put out the fire in the eighth after coming to the scene with two on and one out. A two-run double by Yogi Berra was the big blow of a three-run first inning by the Yankees. It was Berra's first game of the season.

Three games, two in American and one in the National, were postponed because of rain. They were Cleveland at Chicago, Boston at Washington and St Louis at Pittsburgh.



DEFIES JINX—Citation, rated one of the two fastest three-year-olds in the country, waltzed to an easy victory in the Derby trial yesterday and may have jinxed himself in doing so. A trials winner has never won the Derby.

Head Pin Changes Listed; Abe Kiefer Hits 664 Pins

Seven bowlers rolled into the upper strata in the News-Journal head pin tournament on the Richland Recreation alleys, but nine could dislodge the five leaders.

Bowling together, Bertha Young and Betty Bishop came close to removing Pauline Shively from the top position in the women's Class B division. Pauline leads the division with 272 while Bertha had two 271's last night.

She had 94-85-92 in her first effort and 84-106-81 in her second. Betty moved into third position with a 79-81-109—269. She had compiled 81-88-96—265 in her first try.

Gene Rudolph slid into second place in the men's "C" section with a 90-80-112—282. Jim Huck had 82-113-88—283 in the "A" division but could not crash the first ten.

PLACE IN 'A' CLASS

Sally Knackstedt and Evelyn Marshman placed in the women's "A" class. Sally had 108-92-71—271 for fifth place and Evelyn tied for ninth with 73-91-97—261.

Eugene Leedy tied for seventh in the men's "C" with 74-111-80—265.

Dale Cleckner, manager of the Richland lanes, fired a fine 111-114-112—337 exhibition head pin series. The total is four pins more than the leading mark of 333 compiled by Dick Metcalf last week. The scores of News-Journal and Richland employes are not tabulated in the meet, however.

Abe Kiefer of Oak Park Tavern led a mass assault on the Colony alley pins last night which saw eleven "600" series rolled in three leagues.

Kiefer, bowling in the Commercial B league started things off with games of 210 and 178 but really hit top form in his final game. He knocked over the maples for a 276 game and a 664 total, easily the best of the night in both departments.

Three other B league bowlers were in the spotlight. They were: Brig Young, 179-211-227—617; R. Stevens, 198-211-197—606; and Alex Zacharzuk, 204-177-220—601.

Six men entered the charmed circle in the A league, led by Phil Warga who smashed 629 from games of 210-196-223. Nick Weber was only a hair behind with 189-192-243—624. Paul Walrick also was straining for the top with 182-235-204—621.

Other top series were turned in by John Bernat, 234-224-161—619; Richard McKinney, 206-201-207—614 and Gene Funston who shot a 245-193-168—606.

Cliff Forsythe got the Transportation league's representative in the "600" bracket, a 605 series made up of games of 224, 191, 190. Next in line was George Percy's 182-193-189—564.

Shiloh High Fete Listed Tomorrow

SHILOH — Letters will be awarded members of the Shiloh high school basketball team at a banquet Thursday night at 7 o'clock at the high school. The Shiloh P-TA is staging the banquet with Mrs. Dewey Williams in charge.

Randall Hartley, superintendent of schools, will act as toastmaster and Coach Ennis Walker will award the letters to the reserve and varsity squadmen.

Mansfield Hawks Open Baseball Sked Sunday

The Mansfield Hawks semi-pro baseball team will open its season Sunday at 2:30 p. m. against the Ontario Merchants at Tillman's park.

The Hawks have a completely revamped lineup this year. All teams interested in games may write Paul Bruce, 227 Miller street, or call 2022-1.

Senior High Plays Willard

Either Lou Gregorio or Shelly Swank will take start on the mound for Coach Jimmy Lymper's Senior high baseball team in its scheduled game tomorrow afternoon against Willard at Blue Goose.

The weak-hitting Tygers will be after their fourth straight win.

Gregorio has started every game so far for Mansfield but has failed to last with Swank being called in each time to finish up. Swank received credit for the last two victories with Gregorio taking the opener.

Practice Data

Four softball teams are listed for practice on city diamonds at 5:30 p. m. today according to the city recreation department.

American Legion Post 72 will work out on Liberty park diamond, VFW at Johns park, the Amvets at Prospect park and Park Avenue Baptist church team at North Lake.

Entry Deadline

COLUMBUS — Harness Horsemen have until Friday, April 30, to meet the entry deadline for 12 early closing events to be staged at the initial night pari-mutuel meeting of trotters and pacers at Hilliard raceway. Racing is scheduled for June 12 through July 3.

Champs Get Ahead In Ohio-Indiana

(By Associated Press)

Zanesville's defending champions got away to a winning start in the 1948 opening of the Ohio State-Indiana baseball league season last night.

The Dodgers beat Springfield 7-5. Other openers gave Lima 5-4 win over Richmond, Ind., and Marion a 6-0 whitewash of Muncie, Ind. Rain halted the Portsmouth-Newark fray at the end of the tenth with the score tied 5 all.

Four Friendly House Amateurs Win Bouts

Boxers from the Mansfield Friendly House and Marion dominated the interesting amateur fisticuff show last night in the F-H ring.

Each of the teams won four decisions in the second card of the season sponsored by the Friendly House and 40 et 8 club. Matchmaker Mike Wentz announced today that the show was the last until the Friendly House moves into its new quarters next fall.

Don Esbenshade, the F-H and Senior high school champion, unleashed a two-handed attack to gain revenge on Eddie Williams, Ashland middleweight. The Ashland fighter had won a decision over Esbenshade on a recent card.

CARRIES THE FIGHT

Although a little wild, Esbenshade carried the fight to Williams and piled up a good margin in the first two rounds.

In the other top bout on the card, Ernie Arcuri, the Marion veteran, won a close decision from Bill Eccles. It was a fine battle all the way with the Marion lad having a bit too much for Eccles, a Senior high school grid tackle. Eccles also was light-heavy champion of the 1948 Tyger boxing tournament.

Only two knockouts were recorded. Jimmy Middlebrook, F-H. feather put Marion's Bill Franklin away in 52 seconds of the second canto and Howard Carney, F-H titleholder, finished Lester Duviel, Greenwich, in 20 seconds of the opening chapter. Carney had Duviel down once before he quickly ended the bout with a right to the face.

GETS OTHER WIN

The battle royal kids made another hit showing. Bud Kent, Bobby Wetz, Dick Metz, Bill Abraham, Bobby Pittinger and Harold Baker tossed gloves in the feature.

Two F-H lads, Alton Fowler and Ralph Greer, opened the show in an exhibition.

The results:

James Middlebrook, F-H 124 knocked out Bill Franklin, Marion, 121, in 52 seconds of second round.

Harold Watks, Marion, 145 won a decision from Art Mowrey Ashland, 148

Ray Burdine, F-H, 143 won a split decision from Marlin Roose, Willard, 139

Jack Seckinger, Marion, 145 decisioned Philip Tuttle F-H 149

Dick James Marion 123 took a split decision from Gene Ayers F-H 125

Howard Carney F-H, 128 knocked out Lester Duviel Greenwich, 125 in 20 seconds of the first round.

Ernie Arcuri Marion 160 won a decision from Bill Eccles F-H, 163

Don Esbenshade F-H. 159 decisioned Eddie Williams, Ashland 159

Senior High Golfers Score Shutout Win

Rain failed to bother the Senior high golfers yesterday as they won every round of play to open their season with a 15-0 triumph.

Larr Inscore toured the rain-soaked Coolridge course in 41-39—80 to pace the Tygers. He defeated Charles Peckham, Norwalk's best-boy who shot 41-42—39.

CLEAN SWEEP

In other matches Jim Chamberlain bested Norwalk's Bill Shaw, 41-42—83; Tony Taddeo took the measure of Fred Perry, 47-45—92; Steve Demion had an easy time with Dave Lang who had 60-50—110; and Ed Percy made it a clean sweep by shooting 47-43 — 90 against visiting Keith White's 52-50—102.

One point is awarded for each nine holes and additional point for the winning of both nines.

Coach V. H. Oberlander's Bengal linksmen will go to Shelby Thursday for their second match of the season.

Court Upholds Ban On 'Mex' Jumper

NEW YORK —(INS)— Federal Judge Henry W. Goddard today considered dismissal of a $300,000 treble damage suit against the "reserve clause" in a baseball players' contract.

The suit, filed several months ago by Danny Gardella, charges that the clause violates the Sherman Anti-Trust act.

It named as defendants A. B. Chandler, baseball commissioner, William Harridge, president of the American league, Ford Frick, president of the National league, George M. Trautman, president of the National association of baseball leagues and the New York Giants.

Film Advisor's Office — Mr. Ruth

NEW YORK — (INS) — Now, it's Babe Ruth—film advisor!

The one-time home run champion will entrain for Hollywood tonight to consult with movie executives concerning the filming of his life story—"The Babe Ruth Story."

Ruth, still recovering from several delicate neck operations, will stay in Hollywood for six weeks.

The story of the famous slugger's life was written by Ruth and Bob Considine, international news service columnist.

6 City Loop Organized For Softball

The six-team North Central Ohio Inter-City softball league was organized last night at a meeting at the Gorman-Rupp plant.

All-Star teams from Mansfield, Ashland, Mt. Vernon, Marion, Galion and Willard will compete in the circuit which will begin operation the first week in June. Teams will play two leagues games a week, one at home and one on the road. All the tilts will be played under the lights.

The 1948 schedule will be drawn up at another league meeting in Galion May 11.

LEAGUE TEAMS

Teams entered in the league are: Mansfield Gorman-Rupp, Ashland Indians, Mt. Vernon Stone's Grill, Marion Smitty's Grill, Galion Perfection Steel Body and Willard Elks. Each of the teams may carry a roster of 18 players.

T. W. Miller jr. of Ashland was elected president of the circuit with Harold Smith, Marion, serving as vice president. Loren Tibbals, Ashland, was chosen secretary of the circuit while J. C. Gorman, Mansfield, was named treasurer.

The board of directors follows: Miller, Smith, Nick Weber, Mansfield; Fred Newman, Willard; Bill Allwein, Galion; Norman Bland, Mt. Vernon.

The Gorman-Rupp team is working out Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 6 p. m. on the G-R field. Manager Nick Weber hopes to open with independent games within three weeks.

The 1948 Gorman-Rupp squad roster follows: pitchers—Dale McKinley, Kenny Windsor and Bobby Regula; catchers—Tip Hamilton and Paul Wolf; infielders—Weber, Ted Bush, Al Baki, Pete Campbell and Eldon Pritchard; outfielders—Glen Uhlich, Bill McCarrick, Wayne Hough, Bud McKee and Earl Turner.

Pritchard was a member of Madison's district championship basketball squad while Windsor doubles as an infielder.

Appleseed Girls Win

The Johnny Appleseed girls basketball team defeated John Simpson junior high girls yesterday, 16-14, in the Appleseed gym.

Citation Walks To Trial Victory

By BILL CORUM

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (INS) The Coaltown contingent tells you that their horse is so fast that his jockey has to keep the horse's neck bowed to keep him from running right off the race track and away into the bright blue yonder.

Mebbe so. But we saw Citation win the Derby trial yesterday in little more than an open gallop and he ran so fast that his jockey Eddie Arcaro got a crick in his own neck looking back over his shoulder for opposition.

Citation won the Derby trial by a length and a half from William Brann's Escadru which is our guess for the third horse in Saturday's Derby. The bay Calumet colt never came out of a long lope in doing it.

In my opinion, Citation can (can any race horse he can see when he's asked to catch him. I just don't believe that Coaltown can run so fast that his stablemate and Arcaro can't at least, keep within seeing distance of him.

It is an odd and surprising thing that with all the Whitneys, Widenors, Woodwards, Vanderbilts, Mayers, et al, breeding race horses in this country, that Calumet might conceivably start six horses in this Derby, any one of which would have a royal chance to win.

Let's list 'em: Citation, Coaltown, Free America, Whirl Blast, Beau Dandy and the filly, Bewitch.

Talk about breaking up the Yankees, how about breaking up Calumet?

CITATION JINXED?

In addition to his stake weight of 126 pounds, they have now piled all the possible jinxes on Citation's back.

The even-tempered, happy-go-lucky colt won the Belmont Futurity. No Belmont Futurity winner ever won a Derby.

Now he's won the Derby trial. No Derby trial winner ever has won the Derby.

Lemon Gets Call Today And Sunday

CHICAGO —(INS)— The Cleveland Indians, after having one game postponed because of rain, meet the Chicago White Sox today in Chicago in the last game of their series.

A heavy rain began to fall yesterday morning in Chicago and officials of the White Sox promptly postponed the game. However, much to their embarrassment, the rain ceased by 10 a. m., and the playing field was in perfect condition by early afternoon.

The postponement was a grave disappointment to Manager Lou Boudreau, who had planned to use Bob Lemon yesterday and Bob Feller today and then again in the series in Cleveland Saturday and Sunday.

Now, Boudreau will be able to use Lemon twice, but Feller only once again in the series with the western clubs, against whom the shortstop-manager had hoped to pile up a big lead before meeting the highly-regarded Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees.

Lemon will pitch today against the Chisox with Joe Haynes as his opponent. Lemon will pitch again Sunday in Cleveland against the Detroit Tigers. Feller will go against the St. Louis Browns tomorrow and against the A's Tuesday in Philadelphia.

SOX STOLE SIGNS?

It happened at Comiskey park, Chicago, two days ago in the start of the White Sox-Indians series which is to be concluded today.

All through that 14-inning, 12-11 debacle which finally went to the Indians, Cleveland Manager Lou Boudreau was signaling from his shortstop position to Catcher Jim Hegan . . . signaling what pitches he wanted thrown.

Hegan, in turn, would relay Boudreau's signal to whichever of the seven Cleveland pitchers happened to be on the mound at that particular time.

On the White Sox bench, along the third base line, shrewd Ted Lyons kept his eyes fixed on Boudreau.

As soon as Boudreau signaled a pitch, Lyons flashed a counter signal either to first-base Coach Bing Miller or third base Coach Buster Mills depending on whether the batter was right or left-handed.

Were the White Sox stealing the Indians' signals?

Well, the Sox don't usually get 15 hits, including three homers, in one game.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF REAL ESTATE BOARDS
REALTORS
Are Active Members of Constituent Boards

WANT TO SELL YOUR HOME?

Then Use the Mansfield Real Estate Board Listing Plan.

Why Is a Boardlisting Effective?

More advertising—more sales effort—correct price. Your home will be appraised by expert appraisers. If you agree to the appraisal figure, copies of the contract will be distributed to every realtor's office in the district. Thirty-nine realtors and their salesmen will start checking prospect files for that ONE buyer you are looking for.

Cost More?

Not one cent. This improved service is available to you at the same commission rate the individual office charges.

There's a PLAYROOM hidden in your BASEMENT

You can find it with CONCRETE

This is the time to salvage that wasted cellar space, and make a room that all the family will enjoy through the winter months. It's not expensive . . Not if we do it with concrete for floors and portland cement plaster for walls and ceiling. Concrete will make your basement recreation room dry, fireproof, and livable. Want suggestions? Just ask us for information on various ways of reclaiming your basement — for playrooms, for bright, dry laundries, and for food storage.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4 If the number is less than 6, add 3 The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

MORNING, DOC... WHERE WERE YOU LAST NIGHT?
SOME FELLER GIMME FIFTY DOLLARS T'TRY AN' R'MEMBER WHERE I TOOK A PITCHER... WENT TO 'IS PLACE WITH 'IM... BUT I COULDN'T R'MEMBER.. DAD-BLAMED SHAME.
BUT... I WAS ATHINKIN' LATER... AN' I KINDER THINK MEBBE... I SORTER GOT A IDEE... SAY—WHERE'S TH' FELLER YEW INTERDUCED ME TO ...THAT THERE NEWSPAPER FELLER?
OH-FRANK WHITE. HE'S AT THE SENTINEL.
SAY, MR. MULLINS, YOU'RE WANTED IN THE OFFICE.
RIGHT... EXCUSE ME, DOC.
SHORE.
OH... LET'S GET OUR PICTURES TAKEN.

BLONDIE

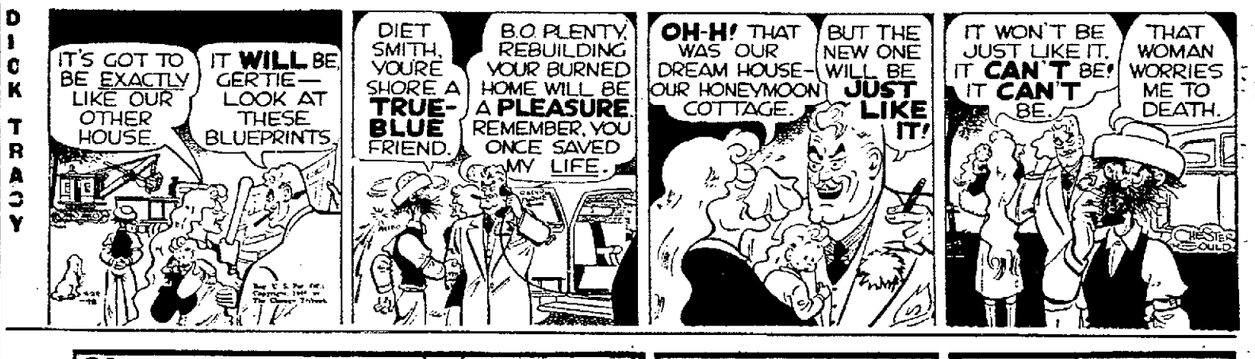
IN TH' MOVIES THEY ALWAYS DOUBLE BACK AND TAKE A LOOK AT THEIR BACK TRAIL... NOT A BAD IDEA...
4-28-48
IF I WERE SHE... WHERE WOULD I SCUTTLE TO ESCAPE? SO... I GO THIS WAY... BUT, HO! HERE SHE WOULD PAUSE TO LOOK BACK!
LEAPIN' LIZARDS! THAT GUY MUST BE PART BLOODHOUND... SH-H... DON'T MOVE, SANDY... BLOODHOUNDS CAN'T SEE TOO WELL... THEY SMELL... GEE... I WONDER...
HAROLD GRAY

TERRY & PIRATES

I BEGIN TO UNDERSTAND, VAN GOBLIN. SINCE YOU RECOGNIZED THE STATUE AS A FAKE, AND SINCE YOU CAME TO ME WITH IT, I MUST ASSUME THAT YOU KNOW THE REST OF THE STORY.
I DO! I WAS APPROACHED RECENTLY BY A JAP EX-OFFICER, WHO WISHED TO SELL ME THE PIECE. HE TOLD ME OF FINDING A RUINED PALACE IN THE JUNGLE, WHILE ON PATROL DURING THE WAR— AND OF ITS OCCUPANT, A WHITE MAN WHO BRIBED HIM TO LEAVE BY GIVING HIM AN ALLEGED PRICELESS ANTIQUE STATUETTE.
IT WAS RATHER UNLUCKY FOR YOU THAT HE SHOULD HAVE BROUGHT HIS LOOT TO ME.

DICK TRACY



IT'S GOT TO BE EXACTLY LIKE OUR OTHER HOUSE.
IT WILL BE, GERTIE— LOOK AT THESE BLUEPRINTS.
DIET SMITH, YOURE SHORE A TRUE-BLUE FRIEND.
B.O PLENTY, REBUILDING YOUR BURNED HOME WILL BE A PLEASURE. REMEMBER, YOU ONCE SAVED MY LIFE.
OH-H! THAT WAS OUR DREAM HOUSE— OUR HONEYMOON COTTAGE.
BUT THE NEW ONE WILL BE JUST LIKE IT!
IT WON'T BE JUST LIKE IT. IT CAN'T BE! IT CAN'T BE.
THAT WOMAN WORRIES ME TO DEATH.

GASOLINE ALLEY

WHAT ABOUT YOUR UP-AND-COMING SMALLER CONCERNS HERE? I MIGHT WANT TO GO INTO BUSINESS.
THERE IS HIMMEL & SMITH, HARDWARE, AND THE AMP SHOP, ELECTRIC APPLIANCES AND SERVICE.
ANOTHER ONE IS WALLET & BOBBLE. THEIR MOTTO IS "WE TACKLE ANYTHING."
TELL ME ABOUT THEM.
I DON'T KNOW MUCH. THEY DON'T COME IN HERE. BUT I HEAR THEY'RE HITTING THE BALL.
THANKS. I'LL LOOK AROUND.
SAY! DON'T THINK OF OPENING A BAR. THERE ARE TOO MANY OF THEM ALREADY!

LI'L ABNER

??- ARE YOU SURE YOU UNDERSTAND WHAT THIS JOB MEANS, MOP-HEAD? FORTY YEARS ALONE, IN THAT LIGHT HOUSE.!?-- NO FRIENDS—NO AMUSEMENTS—NOBODY TO TALK TO, EXCEPT THAT ★!!@☆ LIGHT.!?
SOUNDS AGREEABLE T'ME.!?
EF YO'LL AGREE T' THET YO'LL AGREE T'ANYTHING.!? SO, HOW ABOUT MARRYIN' THIS GAL—AN' HAVIN' YORE PAY SENT T'HER, FO' TH' REST O' YORE NATCHERAL LIFE?
SOUNDS AGREEABLE T'ME.!?
AS A SHIP'S CAPTAIN—I CAN PERFORM THE WEDDING.!?
SOUNDS AGREEABLE T'ME.!?

RIP KIRBY

NO REPORT FROM THE RUE PIGALLE IRREGULARS, SIR?
NOT A WORD, YET. I STILL HAVE FAITH IN THOSE KIDS... SUPPOSE WE LOOK UP LUPO. HE LIVES IN MONTMARTRE..
MEANWHILE, AT THE STARLOCKS' HOTEL:
CAN'T I STAND WATCH FOR A WHILE, MA'AM? Y'RE WEARIN' YERSELF OUT!
I CAN'T LEAVE HIM, MR. MOOSE. HIS COLD IS WORSE! WHY DON'T YOU GET SOME FRESH AIR?
WHAT A HOVEL! YET SOMEONE LIVES HERE.. THOSE ARE CHILDREN'S VOICES..AND THEY'RE CRYING!

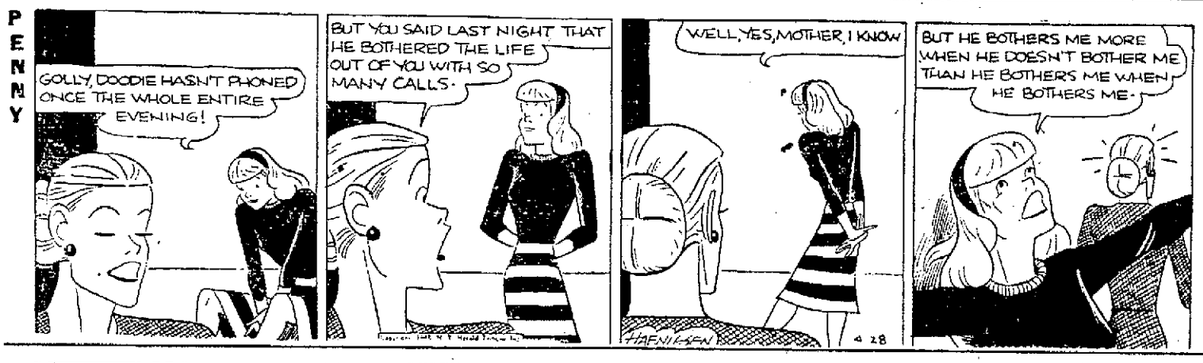
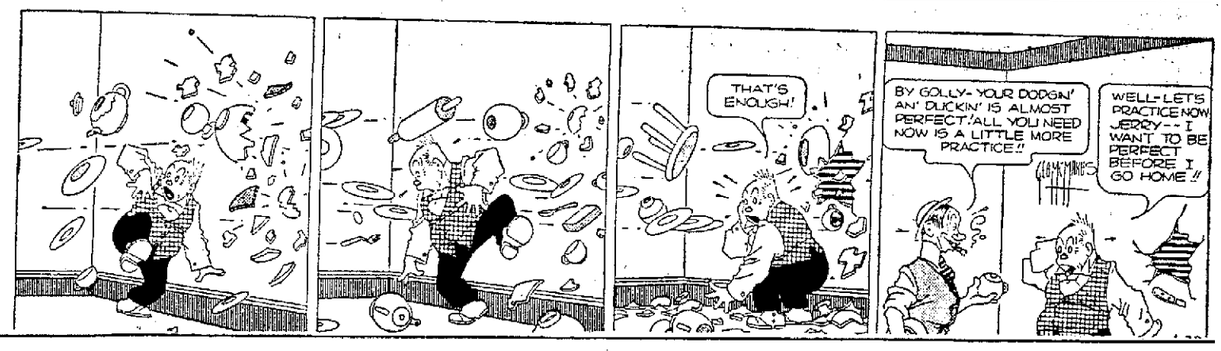
AFTER THAT PLANE BOMBED THE SITE — THE ARMY DIVERS WENT TO THE BOTTOM.
THEY FOUND PLENTY OF DEBRIS FROM THE TRAIN ITSELF — BUT NOT A TRACE OF ITS VALUABLE CONTENTS!

PENNY



GOLLY, DOODIE HASN'T PHONED ONCE THE WHOLE ENTIRE EVENING!
BUT YOU SAID LAST NIGHT THAT HE BOTHERED THE LIFE OUT OF YOU WITH SO MANY CALLS.
WELL, YES, MOTHER, I KNOW
BUT HE BOTHERS ME MORE WHEN HE DOESN'T BOTHER ME THAN HE BOTHERS ME WHEN HE BOTHERS ME.
4-28

JIGGS



THAT'S ENOUGH!
BY GOLLY- YOUR DODGIN' AN' DUCKIN' IS ALMOST PERFECT. ALL YOU NEED NOW IS A LITTLE MORE PRACTICE!!
WELL- LET'S PRACTICE NOW JERRY-- I WANT TO BE PERFECT BEFORE I GO HOME!!

Ohio Drops Teacher Pay Inequalities

'Single Salary' Schedule Favored

COLUMBUS—(UP)—The once-universal practice of paying elementary teachers with the same training and experience lower salaries than high school instructors has been virtually wiped out in Ohio, the Ohio Education association said today.

The OEA said a survey disclosed that 92 per cent of the boards of education in the state have adopted a "single salary" schedule. Such a schedule provides for salaries based upon training and experience without regard to whether the instructor teaches elementary or high school subjects.

T. G. O'Keefe, OEA research director, said that although comparative figures were unavailable for all types of school districts, single salary schedules were in effect in only 27 per cent of the city school districts during the 1941-42 school year.

"The progressive stand taken by the boards of education in Ohio in establishing single salary schedules undoubtedly will encourage young men and women in increasing numbers to enter the elementary teaching field," O'Keefe said.

AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE RATES Will Be REDUCED

WHEN new automobiles, now selling for 100% more than they did a few years ago, make a real drop in price—instead of going higher and higher;

WHEN used cars sell at much lower prices instead of at prices greater than they sold for when new;

WHEN a fender can be replaced for $15.00 or less instead of $50.00 to $100.00;

WHEN new parts can be obtained as needed;

WHEN hospitalization and medical care costs less, and claims for loss of time due to accident are lower;

WHEN most of us drive with more care, caution and courtesy, and there are fewer accidents, resulting in a worthwhile reduction in the following annual national figures:

30,000 Killed
1,000,000 Injured (Many Permanently Crippled)
$1,000,000,000 Property Damage

MEANWHILE, auto insurance rates are continuing to rise, and until there are changes in these things, which make insurance rates, we can expect to pay more for DEPENDABLE AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE.

PLEASE, therefore, try to understand the position of your insurance agent, when he tells you, your auto insurance premium is higher.

Police Seize Suspect In Slaying of Ex-Plymouth Woman

Victim, 60, Murdered By Sex Maniac

Prowler Seen On Night of Crime

PLYMOUTH—Police of East Cleveland held a 27-year-old man today in connection with the brutal sex-slaying of Mrs. Ilda M. Koogle, 60, formerly of Plymouth.

Mrs. Koogle, the former Miss Ilda Morehouse of Perry, O., years ago was a trimmer at the Hanick Millinery store in Plymouth.

Old residents remember her well. Misses Daisy and Grace Hanick of Plymouth and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Geiger of Mansfield called at the Koogle home Sunday to extend sympathies to the family.

LEFT TO DIE

Mrs. Koogle was attacked, beaten and left to die in the back yard of her home at 15119 Terrace road, East Cleveland, last Friday night.

Police Chief Horace A. Weaver of East Cleveland said Mrs. Koogle was beaten on the head with a "heavy blunt instrument" and her skull fractured in several places.

Firemen yesterday searched rooftops of schools, garages and other buildings in the vicinity of the Koogle home in a vain effort to find the missing murder weapon or Mrs. Koogle's purse and wrist watch.

East Cleveland detectives said the description of the suspect in custody tallied closely with that of a prowler seen near the Koogle residence Friday night. They added a woman's belt found in his pocket would be shown to relatives of the slain woman for identification.

Mrs. Koogle's clothing and personal effects found with her body were sent to the Cleveland police laboratory for scientific investigation.

Police Chief Horace A. Weaver of the suburb termed the woman's murder "the most brutal killing I have ever seen in which there was so little evidence to go on."

Taylor Urges 'Y' Support

Approximately 140 members of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs were urged yesterday by Maurice W. Taylor, Mansfield YMCA general secretary, to participate in "Y" activities.

"There is a definite benefit to those giving committee and leadership service to youth," Taylor explained.

"This has been recognized by the Institute of Life Insurance which stresses the increase in normal life span through these activities that offer both mental and physical benefits," he added.

Seneca Grand Jury Indicts Salesman

James Rankin, 45, a salesman for the Cook Coffee company, Mansfield, was indicted by a Seneca county grand jury yesterday on a charge of failure to yield the right of way at an intersection.

Rankin and two Tiffin men were injured on Sept. 2 in a collision of their trucks near Tiffin.

Rankin suffered a punctured lung, fractured ribs and cuts and bruises of the head. The other men were not as seriously injured.

On Japanese Mission

LORAIN—E. J. Burger, division manager of the Ohio Public Service company here, has been granted a year's leave of absence to undertake a government study of industrial and economic conditions in Japan.

Area Deaths

Bellville Salesman Dies at 73

BELLVILLE—Dan W. Castor, 73, died of a cerebral hemorrhage yesterday at 10:20 a. m. in the People's hospital in Mansfield. He was born Oct. 26, 1874 in Richland county.

He was a salesman, a member of lodge No. 376, F&AM and belonged to the Church of Christ.

He leaves his wife, Mattie; Joan Spaid, a foster daughter and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be Friday at 2 p. m. in the Snyder funeral home. Rev. J. A. Long of Nelsonville will officiate.

Friends may call at the funeral home.

WILLIAM FORTUNE

MILLERSBURG — William B. Fortune, 76, died Tuesday at 10 a. m. in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ed Stewart of North Crawford street. He had been ill for a long time.

Funeral services will be Saturday at 2 p. m. in the Elliott funeral home. Rev. Arthur Poll of Church of Christ will officiate. Burial will be in Millersburg cemetery.

Palestine Arms Seized

NEW YORK —(INS)— A large quantity of arms and ammunition marked for shipment to the Holy Land was seized early today by police in New York City.

Included in the cache were 300 revolvers, 100 rifles, an unstated quantity of submachine guns, knives, dirks, and thousands of rounds of ammunition. They were concealed in packing cases of food and clothing awaiting shipment to Tel Aviv.

Police said two men were arrested in connection with the seizure in a loft building in New York's fur district.

Get Diplomas At Stadium

Senior high school commencement exercises will be held June 2 at Stadium field on Ausdale avenue.

Supt. of Schools W. L. Miller said Arlin field is not ready for use this year. Workmen are enlarging the seating facilities at the field.

If it should rain, the exercises will be held in the school auditorium.

Dr. Frank L. Eversull, Cincinnati educator and lecturer, will be the principal speaker. He served with the U. S. Military government in Korea as Chief of Colleges in the American occupied zone.

Clingan Heads City's SPEBSQSA

Herman Clingan, 208 Vennum avenue, last night was elected president of the Mansfield chapter, Society of the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America. He succeeds Ralph Hughes.

Other officers, chosen at a meeting at North Lake park pavilion, are Richard Starrett, vice president; Ralph Hughes, secretary and John Seifert, treasurer.

Named to the executive committee were Hughes for three years, Maurice Stretch for two years, and Wen Murray for one year.

C. P. Martin, Cleveland, who organized the first barber shop quartet in Ohio under the SPEBSQSA banner, was a guest at the meeting.

Mailman Hit After Years

COLUMBUS—(INS)—It took Mailman John A. Reichart 35 years to get hit by an automobile.

Ever since 1913, he's been totin' mail around Columbus streets. Yesterday he retired.

Reichart dropped his last piece of mail and started across the street for home. Fire department emergency squadmen took him to a hospital where he was treated for a black eye, head and arm cuts and bruises and released.

UJA Campaign Only $9,000 Short

The United Jewish Appeal was only $9,000 short of its $75,000 Mansfield campaign goal today.

Receipts totaled $66,000, Leonard Goler, campaign chairman, said.

He pointed out that any person who wishes to contribute may take or send his money to the campaign treasurer, J. C. Kalish, Richland Trust building.

SUGAR FIRM BLAMED

FREMONT —(UP)— The Ohio Department of Health today blamed Fremont and the Great Lakes Sugar company for pollution of the Sandusky river.

Greer Trial Opens Today

He closed his argument by saying the defense expects to present the facts for the court to determine the degree of the crime. "Greer did not have the mentality or thought processes to premeditate a murder of this kind," Wagenhals told the court.

First witness called by Lutz was Coroner D. C. Lavender, who said Taylor died of a shotgun wound in the head and Mrs. Owens of a shotgun wound in the neck.

Other witnesses called included Deputy Sheriff Charles B. Wheeler, who was on duty in the county jail when Greer gave himself up; Capt. Clare Kyler of the Mansfield police department, who was called to the jail and then went to the scene; and Detective Howard L. Schuck, who obtained a statement from Greer regarding the crime.

Kyler said Greer told him: "I am the one who done it," when questioned.

Schuck quoted Greer as saying that after hearing a conversation that Mrs. Owens and Taylor were "going to get him," he didn't know whether to leave the house or go to bed and take a chance.

Man Injured In Car Mishap

Jacob Graves, 54, of 687 Springmill street, suffered minor chest and head injuries yesterday when the car he was riding figured in a two-car collision on Springmill street.

Police said Graves was a passenger in a car driven by Henry Steward, Mansfield, R. D. 2. Steward's car was struck from behind by a car driven by Robert Clark of Cleveland as Steward slowed down in front of 683 Springmill street.

Clark told officers he tried to stop to avoid hitting Steward's car and that he skidded 74 feet before the collision.

Walter Heads Wholesale Group

Robert C. Walter, 583 Andover road, has been elected president of the Associated Wholesale Food Distributors of Ohio. He was chosen yesterday at the 42nd annual meeting of the association in Columbus.

Walter, a native of Mansfield and the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Walter, 25 Helen avenue, has been with the Tracy and Avery company here for the past 15 years. He is a buyer for the firm and a director of the company. Last year he served as vice president of the Ohio association.

Plan to Rent Grandstand For Fair

Bids Submitted Are Considered Too High

BUCYRUS — Disappointed because bids received for a proposed grandstand at the Crawford county fairgrounds were considered too high, Crawford county commissioners delayed action on the project when bids were opened here yesterday.

In the meantime, an effort will be made to rent temporary bleachers to use when the Crawford county fair is resumed in September.

No county fair has been held in Crawford county since the grandstand was destroyed by fire in 1940. No effort to replace the grandstand was made during the war when the grounds were diverted to use of the army for a training camp.

Lowest bid for the grandstand was received from the Carl Weithman Construction company of Galion which estimated the cost at $66,851.09. The same company previously estimated the cost at around $40,000.

Available for the construction is $36,000, the balance remaining from the $66,000 received from the army for use of the ground and sale of buildings, after building horse barns and making other improvements to the grounds. Commissioners, by law, are permitted to add $10,000 from the general fund for county fair purposes.

Bids for electrical work and plumbing were also opened but given no action.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

For Mansfielders and Richland countians, of course, there is a great deal in "Malabar Farm" that is of local and personal interest. Local names are mentioned frequently, C. I. Kimmel, Floyd Dent, the Burton Prestons, the late George Hawkins, the LeRoy McGintys—to name a few. The City of Mansfield is referred to frequently. And all this comes almost in the same breath with mention of maharajahs, prime ministers, soil experts and scores of persons from the author's wide international acquaintance.

Malabar Farm is pleasant reading. The reader is invited to skip technical chapters, if he likes. But you will probably omit very little.

Life on the farm is pictured intimately. Bromfield tells the story of the death of Prince, "the dog who owned him," in a way to touch the heart of any dog owner. And possibly to keep you from feeling too badly Prince goes right on living through the remaining chapters! (They antedate the dog's demise.)

The cycle of life in a fish pond is made as exciting reading as a novel. The story of last summer's depressing and continued rains and floods is recounted with dramatic realism and suspense that makes it more impossible to put down than a who-dunit mystery.

In "Malabar Farm," Bromfield has treated animals much as if they were people. He has even succeeded in giving the soil a living quality. And there, perhaps, is the key to the real importance of the book. Anyone who reads "Malabar Farm" will forever after look at a field as if it were a scene from a play. By looking he can tell if the soil has been treated well and if it is capable of doing its job of raising crops or feeding livestock.

Mansfielders who read the book because of its local connections will very likely come to the conclusion that here is a text men will be referring to for many years to come. Beneath its easy-going surface it is virtually a "Constitution of the New Agriculture" which builds the soil instead of depleting it.

Senior High Band to Present Varied Program In 2 Concerts

Mansfielders will hear some favorite musical comedy numbers when the Tyger band presents its concert in the Senior high auditorium Thursday and Friday nights.

Both the band and the orchestra under the direction of J. Merton Holcombe will give the major part of the program with vocal and instrumental solo numbers interspersed throughout the evening.

The concert will consist of four parts with two specialty numbers by Marilyn Joyce Teeters pianist, and Geralene Ann Glasscock dancer.

Soloists will include Dick Butts, who will conduct one number as well as play saxophone solos; Richard Eliot, violinist; Jean Robinson, vocal solosit; Jim Young, trombonist; Ruth Schaaf, clarinetist; Charles Green, Bob Catlett and Thomas Pankow, soloist and Jim R. Spitzer, trumpet soloist.

The orchestra will lead off with Victor Herbert's "A Kiss in the Dark" and the program will conclude with the Tyger band playing "My Hero" from the "Chocolate Soldier" by Straus.

The program starts each evening at 8. Proceeds from the two concerts will be used for the maintenance and buying of supplies for the band. The concerts are being sponsored by the Tyger Boosters club, the band members and the Band Parents' club.

Dems to Hear Talks Tonight

Attorney Robert W. Levering of Mt. Vernon, Democratic candidate for Congress from the 17th Ohio district, will address a Democratic rally today at 8 p. m., at 297 North Main street.

The rally—which appears to be the only sign of political activity prior to Tuesday's primary — is sponsored by the Mansfield Miller-for-Governor committee.

Other speakers include Samuel McAllister, boxing commissioner, of Cleveland; C. J. McLin, president of the Ohio State Democratic League of Dayton; Mrs. Jean Murrell Capers, assistant police prosecutor of Cleveland, and Thomas J. Davis, of Cleveland of the Ohio State Democratic league.

23 Ship Crewmen Marooned on Ice

ST. JOHN'S NFLD. — (UP) — Three sealing ships raced through heavy seas today to rescue 23 crewmen marooned on ice floes when their vessel was crushed off Battle Harbor, Labrador.

The men abandoned their ship, the 150-ton Norma L. Conrad, yesterday when ice began to splinter the boat. They took portable radio equipment with them and contacted the sealers Wimoda, Eagle, and Terra Nova for help.

5 Persons Draw Fines

Four persons charged with traffic violations and one charged with assault and battery were fined $40 in municipal court today.

Frank E. Windsor, Mansfield, R. D. 2, was fined $10 and costs for disregarding a stop sign. For failing to yield the right-of-way, Clyde W. Hess, 341 South Main street, was fined $10 and costs.

Orlo R. Harlowe, 66 East Third street, was fined $5 and costs for crossing the yellow line, and Harvey G. Rossman, Bucyrus, paid $5 and costs for failure to stop at a stop sign.

Harry W. Phillips, Hanna road, was fined $10 on a charge of assault and battery and was given a 10-day jail sentence, suspended, if he stays away from the home of Edith Benion, Warren road.

James C. McNew, Bellville, charged with assault and battery, won a continuance until May 5. He entered a plea of innocent today.

Cancer Fund Growing

A toral of $4,446 has been turned into campaign coffers in the Cancer Fund drive here, Richard Wolford, chairman, said today.

Although the campaign is still short of the goal of $24,000, Wolford expressed the opinion that if contributions keep coming in the way they have the past few days, the goal will be reached without too much trouble.

"So far only 14 per cent of our volunteer workers have reported," Wolford said. "When we get all reports in, I feel sure we'll make a better showing. Because we're not having a house-to-house canvass, we'd like to ask that all housewives mail their contributions to our headquarters in the YMCA or put them in one of the 238 coin boxes around town."

Few of the county areas have been heard from yet, Wolford said.

"We still have to get reports from Lucas, Bellville, Butler and Lexington."

Plymouth, Shelby and Shiloh have their own cancer fund campaigns, Wolford said.

Firemen Find Smoke, But There's No Fire

Where there's smoke there's fire, residents of the Frietchen apartments figured shortly after noon today. Fire Companies 1 and 3 answered the call to the apartment house at 63½ South Diamond street where residents said they smelled smoke.

Firemen said they found that the smoke came from the furnace. A woman resident had been using the furnace to burn paper after doing her housecleaning, the firemen said.

Pre-School Tests to Open May 4

Mansfield Children To Be Checked

More than 400 youngsters who will enter Mansfield schools this fall will be examined during the pre-school round up beginning May 4, Dr. A. C Biddle, acting health commissioner, said today.

The examinations are designed to detect health deficiencies before the child enters school and to suggest means of correction.

These free examinations, which are not compulsory, seek out eye, ear, nose, throat, heart, skin, lung, glandular and bone defects.

The health department is in its last phase of examining county youngsters who will enter school next fall.

All examinations will be held at the health department offices on the third floor of the city building from 8.30 to 10 a. m

The date, schools and number of children to be examined follows:

May 4—West Fifth Street school, 35 pupils.

May 5 and 6—Bowman school, 75 pupils

May 7—Newman school, 23 pupils; and 15 pupils from Prospect school.

May 10—The remaining 40 pupils from Prospect school

May 11—Western school, no figures available.

May 13—Carpenter and Bushnell school, 15 and 25 pupils, respectively.

May 17 and 18—Hedges school, 78 pupils.

May 19—Woodland school, 33 pupils.

May 20 and 21—St. Peter's school, no figures available

May 24 and 25—Brinkerhoff school, 72 pupils

May 27—Clean-up of students missed during the month's examinations

Recordings of Hit Tunes By Singers Overcome Ban

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD—(UP)—Mr Petrillo of the Musicians' union is supposed to have clamped a ban on making records But you'd never know it around here. They're making records anyway.

It didn't take the record companies long to figure out they didn't need orchestras to cut platters. They're waxing the new hit tunes by the dozens—with just singers.

A crooner doesn't have an orchestra in the background any more. Now he croons to the accompaniment of other crooners. Maybe it sounds like something's missing But the record guys figure a chorus of crooners, minus band tootles, is better'n no crooners at all

And Mr Petrillo? He's gnawing his nails, the Vine street seers say, trying to figure a way to put the damper on this new recording spree. So far he's apparently stymied. Singers don't dish out dues to the Musicians' union. And only the guys who belong to that outfit have been told to stay away from the record business.

'I don't know how he could stop it," shrugs one record company bigwig. "The only legal way would be to crack down on the arangers and directors who work with the singers.

"We hear that's what he's trying to do. But until then—we'll keep on making records with just vocalists."

It's the new post-ban tunes that got this hot idea rolling The record companies recorded like crazy before Dec. 31—the day the ban began. But a couple of hits popped up since then. The companies who didn't get 'em on wax were frantic

They timidly tried recording just singers The fans didn't mind They bought the records, anyway Now orchestra-less records are popular stuff.

PAGE FOUR — MANSFIELD, OHIO, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 28, 1948

That recent $100-a-plate dinner attended by Wallace backers tends to reveal the "common man" in a rather uncommon role.

The records disclose there are more autos in operation in the United States than ever before—and while the demand for new cars exceeds the supply who's got an idea that prices will come down?

'Vote-Getting Appeal' Isn't Enough

A PECULIAR phase of the pre-convention estimate of Republican aspirants for the presidential nomination is frequency of the comment that Taft would make the best president of all the candidates but that he lacks vote-getting appeal—which is a probably unintended reflection on voter-intelligence, rather than on Senator Taft.

It would apear that long before now—based on experience of the past 16 years—a vast majority of Americans would have become very cautious about allowing "vote-getting appeal" to influence their choice of a man for the high office of president of the United States.

It has been said that "whoever Republicans nominate for president at the Philadelphia convention must run on Senator Taft's record," and it is on that record of constructive statesmanship that Taft fearlessly stands in the campaign he is now conducting in his home state of Ohio in advance of next Tuesday's primaries.

The very points of objection to Senator Taft's candidacy are actually arguments in his favor, as his frankness, honesty and courage in taking a firm stand on various controversial issues evidence qualities of statesmanship so greatly needed in the handling of national affairs, rather than giving first consideration to political expediency, as so often happens with mere "vote-getters."

Without intended reflection on Harold E. Stassen's effort to secure representation of Ohio delegates to the national convention, it is quite clear that his entry into the state primary was studiously confined to districts in which opposition to the Taft-Hartley law is expected to influence the voting, but appearance of majority approval of practically all phases of this law indicates likelihood of practically unanimous support of the Taft candidacy throughout the state.

Bromfield's New Book, 'Malabar Farm'

JUDGED by the wide range of interest it will attract—urban and rural alike—Louis Bromfield's new book; "Malabar Farm," seems likely to quickly take place among nationwide "best sellers" and stay there for a long time to come.

"Malabar Farm" follows through the "Pleasant Valley" theme in a more extended way, and local interest will be augmented by the extent to which familiar names are brought into the text, as was the case in an earlier popular Bromfield book, "The Farm."

A review of "Malabar Farm" appears elsewhere in today's News-Journal, this mention being intended merely to express belief that his newest book will be regarded by many as Bromfield's best—to date—and to bespeak for it the thoughtful reading it so richly deserves.

An Immigrant Boy Who Made Good

ANOTHER example of how this country can be made the "land of opportunity," for those who develop qualifications for success in some particular field, is found in the life story of William S. Knudsen, who passed away yesterday morning at his home in Detroit.

After serving an apprenticeship as a bicycle mechanic in his native Denmark, Mr. Knudsen came to the United States at the age of 20 and found employment in minor positions for a number of years until his superior ability gained recognition that eventually led to presidency of General Motors, which he gave up in 1940 to assume the heavy responsibilities of directing the huge war production program of this country.

As Mr. Knudsen modestly put it, when called into public service, "This country has been pretty good to me. . . . If I could do something I would like to do it."

To young people—and older ones—who question the continuance of opportunities in America, the biography of William S. Knudsen is recommended for study.

Nature Provides Recreational Bargain

HIGH PRICES thwart spirit and pocket-book at every turn save one. As yet untouched by the HCL is a walk in the woods. Even in areas where the sun shines around the calendar, it is spring time—the days above all others when the out-of-doors beckons.

Flowering shrubs and fruit trees flaunt their faith in the cycle of the seasons. Man may be devising means to blow himself into extinction, but the leaves unfold, buds swell into blossoms. Nature awakens, as she always has, and builds for the future in which she shows eternal confidence.

Is it too much to hope that humanity can learn any lessons from the creative power in growing things? As era follows era, mankind becomes more and more engrossed in the science of destruction, though the end of such concentration is wiping his finest works, even his species, from the globe.

While there is yet time, why should not the spring be enjoyed? It waits in every meadowland, farmer's wood or city park.

The observant walker finds wild flowers courageously marshalling their tender beauty, scents the pleasant smell of damp earth borne on fresh spring breezes, and finds balm sinking into his troubled soul. And for this boon there is no drain on the budget.

Considering the extent to which some women are inclined to minimize their age, it may be wondered how the census bureau gains information that they outlive men on an average of four years.

Too bad that the suggested 7½-cent coin couldn't have come about in time to prevent the full 100 per cent jump in New York's subway fare.

Spies Are Being Kept Busy These Days

SO LET'S talk about spies. Red Star, the Soviet army newspaper published in Moscow, says imperialist powers (unnamed but obviously the major western democracies headed by the United States) are sending two to three times as many spies into Russia as into any "bourgeois" state. The paper demands alertness throughout the Soviet armed forces to defeat imperialist espionage.

Well, I don't know the ratio of spies assigned to Russia as compared with "bourgeois" states, but it wouldn't be surprising if Red Star were right.

Personally I should be greatly disturbed and shocked to learn that the democracies didn't have an army of spies in Russian bolshevist satellite countries—just as the Soviet Union has in every other country on the face of the globe.

As a matter of fact in these dangerous days spies are swarming everywhere, like flies on the ceiling of a farm-house kitchen on a frosty morning. Naturally governments don't advertise their secret agents, but every major nation has them.

There doesn't have to be an "R" in the month to make spies in season, for they are with us always. Of course, when the dogs of war begin to bay at the moon, the spies start to scurry about. Consequently there is much more activity now in all countries because of the dangerous clash between communist bloc and the democracies.

The employment of spies perhaps strikes the average person as unethical, but the custom is general. Most nations employ agents to try to ferret out the secrets of other countries, especially in times of stress.

It's an unpleasant thing to contemplate—this spying of nations on one another. Still, when sabres are rattling like castanets it's a matter of national security for countries to know the strength and plans of their enemies.

* * *

When Spy Is Caught.

THE REAL sin is on the agent's own head—when he gets caught. He is the one who has to pay—frequently with his life. When an agent is caught he generally has to face the music alone, for his government obviously is almost never in position to acknowledge him and back him up. It's the code of the secret agent to take his punishment with sealed lips.

Hunting lions in the jungle is no more hazardous to life than the profession of secret agent. In time of war the firing squad and the executor take their toll. In peace times the prisons get a lot.

I encountered some ex-spies eating their hearts out on notorious Devil's Island off the coast of French Guiana when I visited there a few years ago, and theirs was a terrible punishment.

I've encountered many other secret agents in one country or another. I knew one American agent abroad — a brilliant and charming woman. She got spotted while operating in a European country and all but lost her life.

She escaped, but her usefulness was ended because her identity had been disclosed. She was a reserved, mild-mannered little lady, as lovely and fragile as a primrose—a very decepting appearance, for she coupled cleverness with the fighting heart of a tigress.

Assignment: America

Discuss Lilienthal Again

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON—The old adage about a politician staying in Washington so long that he loses touch with his people may be reversed in the case of Robert A. Taft versus David E. Lilienthal.

Senator Taft, busy campaigning for the presidency in his home state of Ohio, announced that he would oppose Lilienthal's reappointment as head of the atomic energy commission.

And, whether or not he realized it would happen, his statement is brewing quite a little storm among his Republican pals on Capitol Hill.

Once again, some of the G.O.P. stalwarts in the Senate are a bit irked because he didn't consult with them before announcing a stand which might, in some quarters, be interpreted as representing party policy.

Senate Republican Leader Wallace H. White of Maine made it quite clear during the weekend that he didn't consider it party policy. What made his saying that he "might support" Lilienthal's nomination all the more pointed at the moment was the fact that a year ago he was numbered among those who opposed the former T.V.A. official's appointment.

In addition to White, it was pretty generally conceded in Capitol cloakroom conversation that Senate President Arthur H. Vandenberg (R-Mich.) would continue to support Lilienthal who is completing a year's service as A.E.C. chieftain.

All of which indicates Taft may be in for a slightly turbulent time when he returns to follow through in his fight against Lilienthal.

* * *

Oppose Five-Year Term.

ONE Republican senator who, as yet, has not committed himself publicly on the subject, said privately that he objected to Taft's remark that "many other senators" also opposed Lilienthal's reappointment.

"Considering Senator Taft's well-known party standing," he said, "that sounds as though he meant most of the Republicans in the Senate agree with him. I don't think they do—by any manner of means."

He conceded that some G.O.P. leaders felt that President Truman should not have stretched the A.E.C. chairmanship from one year to five, but said that was something which certainly "has no bearing" on Lilienthal's qualifications or ability.

Other Republican senators expressed the opinion that Taft had placed the party in a bad light in that he did not, (1) Specify a single thing Lilienthal had done wrong in his first year's administration, and, (2) Suggest anyone better fitted for the job.

"As a result," one of them said, "it makes us sound as though we were planning to play 'spoils systems' politics with the Atomic Energy Commission—and the production of atomic bombs—and that's one field where the voters wouldn't stand for that sort of stuff."

Some of Taft's staunchest supporters in his presidential aspirations felt that he made a tactical blunder in taking on Lilienthal at this time.

The reason for their fears is simple. For all his seeming docility and complete courteousness while on the stand, Lilienthal has not proved a very satisfactory "whipping boy" in the past.

Democratic leaders still shudder in memory of the spectacle of Senator Kenneth McKellar D-Tenn.) attacking Lilienthal during the fight over his confirmation a year ago.

Although Lilienthal rarely, if ever, raised his voice, there was no question as to who won that exchange—and no question as to which man lost face before it was finished.

Sale of War Plants Stingingly Rebuked

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The inside story of how President Truman continued to sell U. S. war plants while he was demanding the draft, UMT, and huge Army-Navy appropriations, is one of the most amazing in months.

Despite his speeches about a war emergency, the President had gone right ahead demobilizing the nation's industrial power and allowing war plants to be sold tool-by-tool on the auction block—until, finally, alert Congressman Lyndon Johnson of Texas pin-pricked him with a couple of stinging notes.

At first the President wouldn't listen to Johnson, would not even admit the error of selling war plants. However, the persistent Texan kept after him and, in the end, Truman ate his own words.

After receiving Johnson's first letter warning that war plants should not be demobilized while men were being mobilized, the President blandly replied:

"The matter . . has been taken care of by the contracts under which these properties have been sold to private individuals. In case of emergency, they immediately revert to the government."

This, however, was not the fact, and Johnson knew it. Anyone who had taken the slightest trouble to check the facts would never have written such a letter. Moreover, the letter obviously was written by the President himself, for it included some purely personal references.

* * *

Texan Rebuts.

CONGRESSMAN Johnson didn't exactly like to argue with the commander-in-chief, who is supposed to know all about defending the nation. Nevertheless, he wrote back to Truman, bluntly disputing his letter.

"Plants have been and are now being sold without any provision for government recapture," the Texan congressman warned, "notwithstanding the fact that you have information that these properties immediately revert to the government."

Johnson then listed nine categories of World War II property being sold piecemeal that the government could not recapture. These included such vital works as shipyards, aircraft factories, iron and steel plants and air bases.

Next day, Johnson called upon the President personally, urged him to step in before the government frittered away all its war surplus. At that point, Truman finally moved.

Belatedly, Secretary of Defense James Forrestal, War Assets Administrator Jess Larson, Munitions Board Chairman Thomas Hargrave, and National Security Resources Board Chairman Arthur Hill held an emergency meeting.

Hargrave was president of Eastman Kodak, director of the National Association of Manufacturers, and was appointed chairman of the munitions board by Forrestal because he was supposed to be an expert on industrial mobilization.

Hill, another Forrestal appointee, was chairman of the Greyhound Bus corporation and its far-flung subsidiaries, and was made head of the resources board because he was supposed to be an expert on industry.

But, though the administration had bombarded Congress with plans on manpower mobilization, these two men reported they weren't ready with any recommendations on war-plant mobilization. However, they did agree to freeze war plant sales for 30 days.

These are the men supposed to be guarding the nation's war power, but who still would be selling war plants had it not been for the persistence of one defense-minded congressman.

No More Wheat Rust.

SO MUCH emphasis is placed on atomic energy for military purposes that we don't hear much about its peacetime possibilities. Also not much money, proportionately, is spent on development of peacetime atomic energy.

However, one thing Chairman Lilienthal didn't tell the press when he came out of the White House the other day was that his atomic energy commission has developed a way to wipe out wheat rust and other crop-destroying fungi.

Scientists working with the atomic energy commission have been irradiating wheat rust and successfully changing the genetic pattern of the rust's growth. They have actually found a means, through the irradiation process, whereby the fungus attacks ragweed and other weeds, instead of attacking wheat.

Where Stassen Gets Dough.

HAROLD STASSEN'S backers are passing the hat among small businessmen for campaign contributions up to $1,000.

However, in their eagerness to raise money, the Stassen boys sent one of their form letters—believe it or not—to Sen. Theodore Green of Rhode Island—who happens to be a Democrat. Furthermore, Green is a member of the Senate rules committee which keeps an eye on presidential-campaign expenditures. In fact, Green was chairman of the committee which examined the 1944 campaign books.

So, in reply to the Stassen letter asking him for money, Green politely requested a complete report on how much money Stassen had raised and whom it came from.

Southpaw Truman.

However, the group of ball players waiting for the catch was so far away that at the last minute Truman decided he had better throw left-handed if he hoped to make the throw on the fly. To toss a grounder, he figured, might prompt press comment, so Truman switched to his more reliable southpaw.

* * *

Texas Revolts.

THE political fifth columnists, who tried to sabotage the Texas Democratic machinery in 1944 by throwing their votes against party favorites, are stirring again in the Lone Star State.

The Texas group now is circulating propaganda calling upon Texas Democrats to "free ourselves from national domination in party affairs.

"Since effective political expression in this state is largely limited to the affairs of the Democratic party of Texas," the propaganda preaches, "we must organize the party and adopt an intelligent plan of action that will free us from the domination of Washington politicians, northern machine bosses, and minority groups."

Washington Calling

Truman 'Picks Quarrel'

By MARQUIS CHILDS

IN THE present period of stalemate, the Republican Congress is frequently blamed for refusing to try to cooperate with the Democratic president. This being a political year, the temptation to play politics with legislation and with presidential appointments is almost irresistible.

The other day the President himself seemed to be guilty of doing just that. And the issue at stake could hardly be of greater concern to each and every one of us.

In reappointing the five members of the civilian Atomic Energy Control commission, President Truman appears to have deliberately tried to pick a quarrel with the Congress. At least that is the way his action is being interpreted by responsible Republicans who have tried to keep atomic energy out of politics.

Under the McMahon act putting atomic energy under civilian control, all five commissioners were named for a term of only one year. Then, after that first year, the appointments were to run for one, two, three, four and five-year terms. The latter arrangement was, of course, to insure continuity of direction in the vast undertakings of the commission.

With the terms of all the commissioners expiring in August, the President had a problem to work out. He could have waited until after the present Congress had adjourned in the summer and then he could have reappointed all the commissioners. In that way the present commissioners might have served until the Nov. 2 election had determined the new President and the new Congress. If another President did not like the appointments, he could have withdrawn them.

What President Truman did do was to send up the five appointments, with Chairman David Lilienthal named for the five-year term. He did this without consulting Senator Bourke B. Hickenlooper, chairman of the joint congressional atomic energy committee.

There is nothing in the Constitution to compel Mr. Truman to consult in advance with the Congress. But the fact is that Chairman Hickenlooper has for his part tried to work with the executive in keeping the whole shattering business out of politics and trying to insure that there would be no break in the continuity of control.

When Hickenlooper got word that the appointments were about to be sent up, he rushed to the White House. He suggested that there was a way out which would avoid controversy.

This was to give Chairman David Lilienthal of the atomic commission the one-year appointment. It was around Lilienthal that the quarrel of a year ago centered. But the Senate, Hickenlooper suggested, would accept the present chairman for another year so there would be no interruption and no renewal of the bitter feud which did so much harm.

* * *

Action Invites Trouble.

THE PRESIDENT ignored this suggestion. He went through with his original plan, with the reappointments being speeded to the Capitol so fast that they got there almost before Hickenlooper had time to return from the White House.

This has a special irony in that Lilienthal had told several members of Congress that he would be happy to accept the one-year reappointment. The hard-working chairman is naturally not anxious to go through again the trial by fire he endured last year.

He indicated that the one-year appointment would be an acceptable compromise, since it would carry the term of the chairman into the middle of 1949 and thereby give the new President ample opportunity to decide what he wished to do.

To push the present nominations will cause a quarrel. Perhaps in the end the reappointments could all be confirmed. But, in Hickenlooper's belief, a public feud would do almost more harm to the development of atomic energy—and particularly certain projects now under way—than the bitter quarrel of a year ago.

Therefore a suitable way out is being sought. It may lie in a bill now under study.

This provides that the appointments of all five commissioners be continued for a year after the date of their expiration this August.

Such a bill could be passed with little difficulty, it is believed. If it were vetoed by the President, then all hope of confirmation of atomic appointments would be ended. In many ways this would seem to be a reasonable compromise. Above all, it is important to try to avoid the kind of blowup which might seriously hamper the developments of atomic energy.

Abdullah Holds Key To Peace

Palestine Attack Hinges on King

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The course of events in Palestine is making it increasingly probable that the key to a settlement is in the kingdom of Trans-Jordan. This has long been the view of many qualified and disinterested students of the problem, and what has been happening and what is likely to happen tend to confirm it.

The kingdom of Trans-Jordan was a part of Palestine under the original mandate granted to Great Britain after Gen. Allenby conquered it from the Turks.

In 1923, Trans-Jordan was separated from what is now known as Palestine, by a British proclamation, and after this, the first partition of Palestine, Trans-Jordan became in effect a crown colony and after that a nominally independent kingdom, bound by a treaty which makes it a British protectorate.

As the British troops are being withdrawn from the territory west of the Jordan, and as the mandatory government is being disestablished, there have emerged in the region as a whole two principal centers of organized military and political power. The one is in the Jewish agency and the Haganah army; the other is King Abdullah and the Trans-Jordan army.

MAIN ARAB FORCE

If the present guerrilla fighting were to become an organized war, the war would be fought between the Haganah and Abdullah's army.

And if this war is to be avoided and a political settlement reached, it is now reasonably certain that it can be achieved only if Britain and America jointly are able to negotiate an arrangement between the two principal parties actually on the ground.

For unless Abdullah's army crosses the Jordan and invades Palestine in force, there is no present likelihood that the Jews will be forced out of the main territory assigned to them by the recommendation of the General Assembly of the United Nations.

Moreover, if Abdullah's army remains in Trans-Jordan, there is no other Arab army of any importance which could wage war in Palestine.

If such an army existed, it would have to cross Trans-Jordan, and indeed to use Trans-Jordan as its base of operations, in order to conduct an organized military campaign.

For these reasons, the key to the prevention of a serious war in Palestine is to find out what King Abdullah will do when the British mandate ends.

This should not be inordinately difficult. For on the one hand, Trans-Jordan is allied with Great Britain and, on the other hand, Great Britain, after the termination of the mandate can be counted upon, one must assume, to fulfill its obligations under the charter of the United Nations.

It is bound to use its whole power and influence to restrain King Abdullah from crossing the frontier and committing aggression and to oppose him if he does. Since he is entirely dependent upon Britain for money, since his army has been trained, equipped, and officered by Britain, diplomatic advice should be sufficient.

Until this diplomatic action has been carried out and diplomatic measures of this sort exhausted, the idea of sending American or any other troops into Palestine—except possibly to support a special agreed arrangement for Jerusalem—should not even be contemplated.

ACTION ESSENTIAL

It is unthinkable that either in Washington or in London there should be any hesitation or doubt on the necessity and the justice of these diplomatic measures. For otherwise, our whole moral and legal position in Greece and the Balkans will collapse. Trans-Jordan is to the guerrilla fighting in Palestine what Yugoslavia is to the guerrilla fighting in Greece.

The two problems are identical except in one crucial respect. Great Britain is not Russia, and it will, therefore, restrain Trans-Jordan unequivocally, and it will collaborate without vetoes or abstentions or boycotts in measures to prevent direct or indirect aggression, and in the search for constructive proposals for a negotiated settlement.

It seems not unlikely that as the problem is explored we shall find that the results of the first partition of Palestine in the 1920s are the foundation on which the consequences of the second partition in 1947 can best be dealt with.

It may be that in the end the solution will be to reunite the whole of Palestine on both sides of the Jordan in a loose consideration of two or three autonomous but not wholly sovereign states, perhaps with Abdullah as king of a greater Palestine.

Such a solution is not inconceivable if Britain and America jointly decide to promote it—Britain using its influence with Abdullah and America its influence with the Jewish agency.

A wise and adroit diplomacy working on these lines would encourage and induce the Haganah to exert its authority over the terrorists of the Irgun and the Stern gang and would encourage and induce King Abdullah to exert his authority over the Arab terrorists under the grand mufti.

Such a greater Palestinian confederation would alone be capable of solving the economic problem of Palestine. For since it would control the whole valley of the Jordan, there could be set up under it that Jordan Valley authority without which the Arabs and the Jews can have no real hope of a future without struggle and bitterness and squalor.

The financing of the development of the Jordan Valley could be done by the World Bank; it is the kind of project which the World Bank was designed to undertake. The use of American influence to bring this about might well be made an integral part of that new American policy for Palestine toward which the administration is painfully working its way.

Union Official Says Rail Brotherhoods Won't Strike

CHICAGO —(U.P.)— A high-ranking rail union official said Tuesday he believes there will be no nationwide railroad strike because the brotherhoods "learned their lesson" in the 1946 walkout.

The official, who refused to permit use of his name, is not connected with the three brotherhoods involved in the current strike threat.

The official said that the brotherhoods might strike against one of two railroads, but not against them all. He said they would avoid tying up the entire country.

The spokesman said the other brotherhoods would order their members to halt work on the strikebound roads.

TOURIST CLUB HEARS STORY OF 'NATOMA'

Special Music From Victor Herbert Opera Presented By Guest Artists; Recordings Played.

THE TOURIST CLUB held its final program meeting of the year Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Women's Club. Mrs. Frank Leavitt was hostess.

Mrs. C. C. Wadsworth presented the story of the opera, "Natoma," written by Victor Herbert while he was a guest in Santa Barbara, Calif. The setting is during the early mission days of California along the coast. The opera was first produced in New York.

Mrs. Robert Brook, guest soloist, sang two selections from the opera, "I Lift a Trill In Golden Throat" and "An Indian Lullaby." She was accompanied at the piano by another guest musician, Mrs. Harvey Lisle.

Mrs. Wadsworth played recordings of "Habanera" and "Dagger Dance," both from the opera.

The business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. G. J. Kochenderfer and contributions were voted for the YWCA scholarship fund and for the America Cancer society.

Mrs. C. E. Frankeberger was welcomed as a new member and the name of Mrs. Olan Aughbaugh was presented before the group for membership and was voted upon favorably.

A third guest at the meeting was Mrs. Vesta Johnson.

The club will have its annual picnic in June, the date and place to be announced later.

THE "OLD LOOK" . . . Old-fashioned charm in a white cotton eyelet-trim blouse.

BIB 'N' TUCKER . . . Smart simplicity in a tailored cotton blouse with tucked bosom, three-quarter cuffed sleeves and trim collar.

Eleven tables of cards were in play. Prizes for contract bridge were awarded to Mrs. J. F. Daley and Mrs. Clarence H. Stuhldreher.

Auction bridge prizes were won by Mrs. Nellie Dillon and Mrs. Bernice Smith. Mrs. John Villella and Mrs. Carl Bechtel won the prizes for high scores in pinochle.

The special attendance prize was presented to Mrs. T. J. Creamer.

Mrs. G. C. Wehinger and her committee were in charge of the refreshments which were served at the card tables.

The next regular meeting will be a business session Tuesday, May 11.

Guest Meets With Auxiliary

The Ladies Auxiliary of Letter-carriers met at the home of Mrs. Dan Stuckey, 404 Ohio street. Eleven members and one guest, Mrs. William Cunningham, were present. The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Robert Murray, and a contribution was given to the Cancer fund.

Contests were enjoyed and prizes won by Mrs. D. G. Schooley, Mrs. Lowell Christman, Mrs. Olive Knarr, and Mrs. Cunningham.

The May meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Frank Winters, McElroy road on the 25th.

Children Give Program For Child Study Club Members

THE APRIL meeting of the Child Study club was held Tuesday evening at the Ohio State Reformatory with Mrs. Arthur Glattke as hostess. She was assisted by Mrs. F. W. Forkner.

The children of the Child Study club members gave an interesting musical program. Piano solos were given by Ricky Banks, Artie Glattke, Edith Ann McCullough, Chuck Kindel, Courtney Bourns, Mary Lu McCullough, Sally Todd, and Tip Kindel. Diana Smith and Cheryl Riester presented tap dances.

A saxophone-banjo duet was given by Don Beddard and Bill Griffin. Nancy and Nannette Robbins had a piano duet for the group. Teddy Glattke and Orlo Smith each sang a solo for the members present. John Robbins gave a dramatic presentation.

After the program, the business meeting was opened with roll call when members answered with "Amusing Remarks by the Offspring." A donation was made to the Cancer Fund.

A dessert luncheon was served to the members by the hostesses. Mrs. Ruhland Isaly presided at the table which was decorated with an arrangement of apple blossoms, carnations and iris. On each side were green tapers in crystal holders.

The next meeting will be May 25 in the form of a business meeting at the home of Mrs. S. D. Stockslager, 499 South Russell road, assisted by Mrs. Emmett Casey.

New Committee Heads Named

The Amvet auxiliary met Monday evening with Mrs. John Catlett, president, in charge. The new committee chairmen were announced. Mrs. Robert Miller, program committee, and Mrs. Carol Kelly, ways and means committee, were appointed.

A state executive committee will meet May 1 in Columbus. Mrs. Norman Hakes and Mrs. Robert Bonham will represent Mansfield.

The meeting Monday was a combined social evening and business session. Contests were the diversion of the evening, conducted by Mrs. Robert Miller.

The next meeting will be May 10 at the clubrooms.

DAV TO MEET

The Auxiliary to the Disabled American Veterans will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the clubroom.

First Lutheran Class Holds Peanut Dinner

Eleven members and one guest of the Excelsior class of the First English Lutheran church met Tuesday night in the Richland Recreation center for their Peanut Sister dinner.

The long table at which the women were seated was decorated with a centerpiece of spring flowers.

A miniature airplane made of a peanut marked each place. Attached to the peanuts were small folded papers on which were marked the names of the new Peanut Sisters for the coming year. Candy peanuts were served to carry out the theme of the party.

The next meeting of the class will be May 25 and the place will be announced at a later date.

Gleaners' Class

The Gleaners' Bible club met recently at the home of Mrs. C. A. Cole, West Fifth street. Mrs. J. B. Nelson led the devotions using Psalm 46 for her theme. Mrs. J. R. Wolfgang, president, conducted the business session. Gifts for sick and absent members were discussed. The lesson study about Joseph concluded the year's study of Genesis and was led by Mrs. Ralph Peat. Meetings will be resumed in September.

Hollywood Hair Stylists Give Preview With Straight Faces

HOLLYWOOD—(UP)—Don't laugh at the little woman's new bonnet, fellers. Wait till she takes it off. What's underneath will be even funnier.

The Hollywood hair stylists' guild previewed their new hair-do's last night. And, with a perfectly straight face, they did everything with the female frizz but stick a bone through it.

They swirled it up on top of her skull and perched a bird-cage on top. And chirping merrily away inside was a real, live canary.

Next they tackled a buxom blond with long yellow curls. These they piled on the back of her head and propped up with a wire frame to give it that important new bustle effect." Unquote.

But they weren't through with this gal yet. For a final touch they slipped a tiny bent tube in between her rats, filled it up with water, and stuck in an orchid.

Do this every morning before you serve the old man with his ham and eggs, the stylists argue, and he'll be enchanted.

Want to look like Marie Antoinette in her heyday? Then saw off a piece of the porch trellis and wind your hair through that. The hair-do experts, and they were of both sexes, swear all the ladies will be wearing these for extra elegance.

Another model braided her hair into a fake pigtail, swished it around her chin, and looped pearls through it. The end of the pearl necklace dropped down over the bare shoulder.

She looked a little like a bearded lady with king-sized dandruff, but she was stylish, the hairdressers said.

And if your missus is interested in politics, take home a toy elephant or a china donkey. She can roll up her hair like a bird's nest and sit the animal she's voting for in the center.

The ones we saw were tacked on with ribbon. But if your wife's the active type you better recommend scotch tape.

The rest of the hair styles were a little more restrained. The general idea is that milady might as well hide her head in the kitchen sink as show it in public with long hair.

Launder Print Frock Before It Actually Looks Soiled

By ELEANOR ROSS

WASHABLE prints, nicer than ever, are available at the yard goods counter as well as made up into charming designs. It is a nice thought that so many of the most attractive washable prints are devoid of lots of fussy trimmings, relying on the fabric and line for effect.

To do right by the dress and the wearer, don't waint until the frock actually looks soiled. Chances are then, that it will take a heap of washing and handling to get the dress back to its original freshness. Once the fabric soils in the slightest or acquires the faintest perspiration or body odor, the smartest creation loses its allure.

Suds-and-water washing will keep this year's lovely floral, polka dots and plaids dainty, whether the fabric be silk or synthetic. There is nothing better than this easy, inexpensive method of keeping fine washable fabrics clean and pretty.

Abundant mild suds, whether soap or detergent in origin, should be kept active all through the washing process. Plenty of lukewarm water, and quick, gentle handling are the other essentials.

Unless a garment has remained too long unwashed, soil and perspiration stains practically fall away of their own accord. Don't stint with the rinsing job, but give the garment several thorough rinses with clear, lukewarm water, rinsing until there isn't a visible trace of soap.

If time is of the essence, partially soak up moisture with clean bath towels. Then hang the garment in the shade, if outside, away from any direct heat and in a good current of air, if inside the house.

If washable fabrics are bought to be made up into frocks, don't make the mistake of using trimmings that won't stand up in the wash. Avoid buckles or buttons that are glued to the shanks, pipings or shoulder pads that are not colorfast, and elaborate pleats or shirrings that are difficult to iron. Home dress-makers should cheer for that inexpensive button-covering gadget, and for shoulder pads that snap in.

Schedule of Coming Events

DO YOU WANT to serve a delicious surprise at your next club luncheon? Or, maybe you are planning a series of afternoon teas to round out your entertaining before hot weather. Then try these filled cup cakes for sweet eating and good looks and add to your reputation as a hostess.

SURPRISE CUP CAKES

½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten
1⅔ cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream shortening and sugar; add eggs; beat well. Mix and sift dry ingredients. Combine milk and vanilla. Add dry ingredients and milk alternately to egg mixture. Fill greased muffin pans half full. Bake in moderate oven, 375° F., 20 to 25 minutes. Cool on cake rack. Cut slice from top of each cake and scoop out small hollow. Fill with chocolate whipped cream*. Replace tops. Frost and decorate. Yield: About 1 doz. cup cakes.

CHOCOLATE WHIPPED CREAM FILLING

Whip ½ cup heavy cream: fold in 2 tablespoons chocolate syrup*.

CHOCOLATE SYRUP

2 square (2 oz.) unsweetened chocolate
½ cup sugar
1-3 cup hot water
Few grains salt
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 egg yolk, slightly beaten

Melt chocolate over hot water; cool to lukewarm. Combine sugar and water. Cook, stirring, until sugar dissolves. Cool to lukewarm; add salt and vanilla. Add to egg yolk, stirring constantly. Add to melted chocolate. Yield: 1 cup.

FROSTING

1-3 cup butter or margarine
3 cups confectioners' sugar
¼ cup milk (about)
1 sq. (1 oz.) unsweetened chocolate.

Cream butter or margarine; add sugar slowly while continuing to cream. Add enough milk to make spreading consistency. Divide mixture in half. Melt chocolate over hot water. Add to ½ frosting. Frost half the cup cakes with white frosting and half with chocolate.

Baha'i Assembly

The Mansfield Baha'i Assembly met Sunday afternoon for election of officers at the Lawrence Price home on Millsboro road. Mr. Price was named chairman; Mrs. Joseph Pival, vice chairman; Miss Eva Leonard, secretary, and Mrs. Marion Clark, treasurer. Mr. Price appointed chairmen for various committees. Mrs. Rose Steinberg was chosen as the Mansfield delegate to be held April 29 to 31 at the Baha'i House of Worship at Wilmette, Ill.

Horoscope

For Thursday, April 29.

There is excellent forecast for shrewd and quick grasps on opportunities, with keen decisions and insight as to the benefit of change, new agreements or arrangements, in which the race is to the swift and not the laggard. A strange lure or romance, or adventure may intrigue into more dramatic fields, thereby causing loss of opportunity, assets or support where the results may be more tangible but less productive. It is a point for decision against thrills, impulse for emotions versus cold logic and practicality, with the unique and unpredictable intriguing.

For the Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is, must depend upon the wisdom and character of their choices, whether this be in the practical every day affairs or in the realm of romance and adventure. In the former there are exceptional oportunities for particular accomplishment where quick moves, acumen, and keen grasp of the need for changes in routines, or procedures are important. A rather critical situation arises because of such play between the realistic and constructive against the strange lures of adventure and romances. The urge to the erratic and peculiar or irregular may work against the safety and soundness of major decisions.

A child born on this day although having a brilliant mentality, sagacity and aspirations may be lured by sensation, romance and the curious.

Take a wad of cotton, dip it in your favorite perfume and then tuck it in your bra. The heat of your body will bring out the full strength of the perfume and keep it lingering with you hours longer.

Middle Point Lady Lost 30 Lbs. Says General Health Improved

"I am 62 years of age," writes Mrs. Thos. Armstrong, Van Wert County, Middle Point, Ohio, "and before taking Rennel my weight was unbecoming and bulky. I have lost 30 lbs. and am satisfied that my general health has improved. Rennel has pepped up my system and since I have lost this weight my neuritis has fully disappeared."

Hundreds of others have obtained similar relief from the social and physical discomfort of being overweight. Why not try this effective yet inexpensive method of reducing and enjoy the pleasures of feeling younger and more alive. Try Rennel and notice the admiring looks you will receive from your friends as your figure becomes younger and your vitality increases. Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Rennel. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough unsweetened grapefruit juice to fill the bottle and then take two tablespoonfuls a day. That's all there is to it. If you aren't satisfied with the results return the empty bottle to the manufacturer and your money will be refunded. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Rennel—no starvation diet—no printed diet list to buy—no vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry. Don't be switched to another product. Insist on the genuine Rennel.

Two Steel Firms Ban Wage Hikes

Some Slashes In Prices Indicated

NEW YORK —(U.P.)— Bethlehem Steel company Tuesday rejected wage demands of the CIO Steelworkers union and announced a reduction in prices of $10,000,000 annually. At Pittsburgh Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation issued a similar announcement.

E. G. Grace, Bethlehem chairman, said the reductions in price will apply "on certain steel products," but he did not specify what products.

Bethlehem Steel followed the pattern set last week by Benjamin F. Fairless, president of United States Steel corporation. The U. S. Steel price cut will amount to $25,000,000 on an annual basis.

Grace recalled that he had warned of "the unsoundness and danger in the ever-increasing wage and price spiral."

"The stopping of this process is undoubtedly a constructive move," he declared. "While profits today and rising costs do not by themselves justify any price reductions below the present level, we are willing to make our contribution and hope our suppliers and other industries will follow suit.

"We believe the step will be well worth while if it results in halting the inflation trend.

"A general increase in wages at this time is unwarranted by either cost of living increases or profits."

Ben Moreell, president of Jones & Laughlin, said the firm would "cut prices wherever we can."

REFUSES WAGE INCREASE

The company's refusal to grant a wage increase was announced at the annual shareholders' meeting. Earlier in the day, company officials met with CIO-USE negotiators to discuss the "substantial" wage increase demanded by the union.

Moreell said J & L decided not to increase wages because it felt it was its "duty" to join in an experiment to stop inflation.

He referred to U. S. Steel's announcement last week that it would cut prices and maintain wages at their present level to "halt the upward spiral" of prices.

"The purpose of this experiment, in essence, is to make our dollars stop this inflationary spiral," Moreell said.

"Jones & Laughlin feels that, not only as a public duty but also in the interest of its individual employes and shareholders, it must participate in this experiment and support it in the greatest practicable manner."

Moreell said the firm was studying a price-cutting program and would announce the cuts later. He gave no indication as to how much the firm intended to reduce its prices.

Rock Portraits Give Clues To Rhodesian Ruins Origin

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa—(AP)—Who were the mysterious white people with thick red and black hair reaching to their shoulders whose painted portraits are on the age-old rocks near the Zimbabwe ruins in Central Rhodesia?

Nobody knows yet who built Zimbabwe, a strange pile of skillfully built towers still standing firm and upright in the depths of Africa 400 miles from the sea.

The general opinion is that they were the work of ancient goldseekers from Phoenicia or some other middle eastern land. New discoveries of the rock paintings made by the Abbe Breuil, famed French archeologist, may help solve the mystery.

The painted figures correspond closely to those the abbe found last year in the Bradenberg mountains of South West Africa, more than 1,000 miles away. One of the paintings was of a strange white woman, obviously of Mediterranean origin.

"These paintings are the paintings of foreigners, possibly Egyptians, and there is a link between them," the abbe said in an interview.

"They show a period of exploitation of Africa that is older than Zimbabwe and of which Zimbabwe is merely the climax. It is now a question of locating, from their costumes and ornaments, whether the originals of the portraits were Egyptians, Persians, Babylonian or Phoenician.

ANCIENT TRADING ROUTE

"At Brandenberg there were types of clothing that were more or less Cretan, and at least two were Egyptian. The country in Rhodesia and to the mouth of the Zambesi river was an ancient trading route. Zimbabwe was probably built for the transit of gold and ivory from the hinterland to the coast.

"It has been established by geologists that about $320,000,000 worth of gold, calculated at $16 an ounce, was extracted from what is now Rhodesia before the Europeans arrived in Africa."

In view of the monsoons and favorable ocean currents, the abbe said, it was not surprising to find navigators from the Persian gulf traveling down the east coast of Africa.

The ancient port of Sofala was built by the Arabians, who used the harbors between Dares-Salaam and Mozambique, and King Solomon sent a fleet from Phoenicia about 1,000 B. C.

The abbe recalled that the Portuguese landed in South West Africa in the 1480's and said there is therefore no reason why the Phoenicians or Egyptians could not have done so centuries earlier.

"If everyone saves a little ... there should be enough for all"

"You saw what happened when everybody pitched in to stretch the supply of fuel oil. Folks saved. They were neighborly. And ... there was enough to go 'round.

"Well, that's all it's going to take to make sure there'll be enough gasoline to go 'round.

"Actually, the oil companies are producing more gasoline and other petroleum products, today, than during the peak war years—a lot more than in 1941. But there are also a lot more cars, trucks and busses on the road, today. There are 3 commercial planes in the air for every 2, in 1941; 6 Diesel locomotives on the rails for every 1 in '41. The use of oil burners for heating is up 40%. Industry is using over 18% more petroleum. Midwest farmers are using almost twice as much as they did in '41. And their needs must certainly be met.

"Yes, you can see that while the supply is great—the demand is greater. To meet this tremendous demand, the petroleum industry is going all out—spending 4 billion dollars on expansion.

"At Ohio Oil, for instance, we're really pushing ahead with our expansion program. We're drilling many new wells, expanding transportation and distribution facilities. And right here, you can see we're making real progress on our refinery expansion program.

"Programs like this can't be completed overnight. They take time—and steel. But with other companies bearing down just like mine ... well, if everyone saves a little, there should be enough for all."

Income Drop Reported By U. S. Steel

Directors Declare Usual Dividend

NEW YORK — (AP) — U. S. Steel corporation reported Tuesday its net income for the first 1948 quarter was $33,957,341 equal to $3.18 a common share. This compared with $39,234,511 or $3.78 a share, in the similar period a year ago.

Directors declared the usual $1.25 dividend on common stock payable June 10 to holders of record May 7.

The corporation, biggest unit of the steel industry, posted price increases during the quarter estimated to amount to around $10,000,000 annually on semi-finished steel. Recently it announced plans for a $25,000,000 annual reduction in price of some other products effective May 1.

Net income for the final quarter of 1947 was $29,397,811 or $2.65 a share.

For the first three months of 1948 production of ingots and castings was reported at 95.1 per cent of rated capacity against 100.7 per cent in the preceding quarter and 97.9 in the similar 1947 period.

The total of finished steel shipments in the latest quarter was placed at 5,135,858 net tons compared with 5,359,763 tons in the final 1947 quarter and 4,843,674 tons in the same period a year ago.

On preferred stock the quarterly dividend of $1.75 a share was declared payable May 20 to holders of record May 3.

EXPECTING FIFTH

It Takes Mills to Make the Steel You Use and PROFITS to keep mills going

It takes "real profits" to keep an industry alive. It is the purchasing power of the profit dollar that sets today's pace for progress.

The high costs of improvements and expansion in steel can today be met only with profit dollars. For the money that the industry has been allowed to set aside for replacement and improvement is not enough to meet today's requirements.

Steel's 1948 profit dollar buys only 50 cents worth of rolling mill, however, compared with 1938. It takes two of today's dollars to buy as much mill as one dollar bought ten years ago.

Steel profits averaged 6.3 cents on the sales dollar last year. In the same period, the profit per dollar of investment in the steel industry was 9.4 cents.

Steel profits are low when measured against today's high cost of maintaining efficient plants. The steel industry is meeting those costs because an efficient industry best serves the public interest.

AMERICAN IRON AND STEEL INSTITUTE
350 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, N. Y.

There are 95 member companies of the Institute with plants in 166 American communities. They produce 94.6 percent of the country's steel.

Students Vie For Special Awards

By JANE ANN STONEBURNER

As Class day (May 21) approaches, seniors are wondering more and more who will receive the school's many awards.

Underclassmen also become aware at this season of their opportunities to receive special credit for work well done. It may be in the form of a medal or a scholarship, or it may simply be the reading of the names of meritorious graduates.

This year special attention has been directed to these prizes by a large display in the library showcase. They include:

Men's University awards, given annually to the most outstanding boy and girl in the graduating class, and granted on the basis of character, leadership, scholarship, and service. The two winning names are engraved in plaques which hang in the main vestibule. There are eight runners-up.

Three top honors for scholarship are given. The valedictorian also receives the Reader's Digest award of a year's subscription to that magazine. Recognition also is given to all the boys and girls placing in about the upper tenth of the class.

The Student Representative council recognizes with medals outstanding seniors in various departments. These include art, athletics, (both boys' and girls'), biology, chemistry, choir, English, German, home economics, Latin, mathematics, mechanical drawing, physics, social sciene, speech, vocational, and woodworking.

The Eta Sigma Phi Latin award and the Bautsh-Lomb science award are coveted medals given to the outstanding four-year pupils in those departments.

BAND ELECTS

Officers for the 1948-1949 Tyger Marching band were elected last Friday with J. Merton Holcombe present.

Dick Butts will be the new captain, succeeding Bob Catlett. Jim Young will fill the place of first lieutenant and Phil Pendleton will be top sergeant.

Other sergeants are Jim Kibler, Jim Spitzer, Jack Dillon, John Schmitt-Matzen, Del Harris, Phil Rogers, Charles Green and Jim Cook.

Jean Robinson will start next fall as the band's secretary, replacing Ruth Schaaf who graduates this June. Dorothy Gribling will be second lieutenant over girls, and Virginia Brownfield will be librarian. Head majorette will be Shirley Lay.

★

The Crescendo club will meet Sunday at the studio of the club adviser, Mrs. George Hall. Dick Butts will speak concerning the place of popular music in America. Jim Spitzer and Jim Cook are preparing refreshments. New officers will be elected and the last arrangements for the trip to Cleveland to see the opera "Manon" will be made.

Grade cards were carried Monday for the fifth time this year. Seniors count only 20 days of school in the final grading period and it is generally recognized that much of that time will be spent participating in such annual observances as "Kids' day" and Class day.

One of these enjoyable diversions will be the assembly planned for first period May 7. A demonstration presenting the story of Holland will be given by Roeland Van Cavel. These "Glimpses of Holland" will portray its history, people, and customs. Paid-up activities books will be required for this assembly.

CANADA'S RICHEST—Believed to be Canada's richest schoolboy is Johnny Smallman (above) 14, of London, Ontario, a student at Ridley college in St. Catherines, Ont. The youth was named sole beneficiary of the $2,800,000 estate of his great-aunt, Mrs. Eleanor Morgan. School authorities will keep the news of the legacy from Johnny as long as possible. He will continue to receive his present 35-cents-a-week allowance.

2 Area Men Sign For Duty In Navy

The Mansfield Navy Recruiting office has announced the enlistments of two area men.

The enlistees who left for recruit training at Great Lakes Naval Training Center were Charles A. Roberts, 17, Shelby, and William R. Ross, 18, Bucyrus. Roberts and Ross enlisted for three years.

Piles Are Never "Mild"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formation without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, billiousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief—written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

Firm Makes Check on Wives Of Prospective Executives

CLEVELAND — (LP) — A man who gets paid for deciding on other men's job qualifications said today that the character of a job-seeker's wife is as important as his own ability.

Regardless of how bright a candidate for a swivel-chair may be, George Trundle turns thumbs down if the man's wife nags, drinks, talks too much, or is overly critical.

The "better half" must also "fit the job," according to Trundle, who is president of the Trundle Engineering company, a consulting engineering company which reorganizes faltering firms or starts new ones.

"We wouldn't think of placing a man in an important job in our firm or recommending him for any other company without first finding out what his wife is like," he said.

The wives of prospective executives usually don't know it, but Trundle uses a "basic yardstick" to measure them:

"Does she nag her husband? Is she interested in his work? Does she drink or gossip excessively? Does she want him to have the new job"

The wrong answer can keep a man marking time in front of the president's desk rather than working behind it, Trundle said.

"For instance," said Trundle, "a brilliant New York executive was slated to become president of the large company he worked for. Then we found out his wife was apt to drink too many cocktails at parties. We had to recommend the company drop him," he said.

Theory is, said Trundle, that a person who drinks too much always talks too much.

Qualifications of Judge In Labor Law Test Case Closely Examined

BY NOW a citizen should not even blink at any conduct of any official or creature of the Roosevelt regime. Nevertheless I jumped when I read that Judge Ben Moore, of Charleston, W. Va., was sitting in the recent prosecution of Phil Murray and the CIO to test the constitutionality of part of the Taft-Hartley law.

Moore is an old partner of T. C. Townsend, who has been a lawyer for the United Mine Workers for many years and who appeared in Washington, D. C., recently in the contempt case against John L. Lewis and the UMW.

In Who's Who, Moore's biography says he was a member of the firm of Townsend, Bock, Moore and Townsend from 1929 to 1940. He was a politician in Kanawha county, W. Va., for years.

He went to the common pleas court in Kanawha county in 1940 following a rough commotion at the nominating conventions kicked up by truckloads of coal miners, shipped across county and district lines to put over the machine nominees.

Up to then, Moore had been an office lawyer in a firm which lived largely, and well, on the practice of union law in a state and county where the United Mine Workers boss the government. The common pleas court is not much above those quaint J. P. courts conducted by chew-to-bacco squires and picturesque ignoramuses. However, Moore's opinion in the Murray-CIO case, assuming it to be home-grown, discloses a degree of literacy colored by the political bigotry of the New Deal fundamentalist.

He tells of two years at "Magoffin Institute" between his thirteenth and fifteenth years. From the age of 16 to the age of 20 he was a bank clerk. He read law in an office and was admitted to the bar at the age of 25.

The best way I know to come to the facts is to go to the people concerned, but it doesn't always work. I telegraphed Moore in Washington several direct questions. I asked whether he had ever been a partner of Townsend, Moore and Townsend, which was the title of the firm for some time.

In closing my message to Moore, I said: "If true, my interest turns to criticism of Justice Black by Justice Jackson for failure to disqualify himself in similar but, it seems to me, less urgent circumstances."

He said my telegram "received while decision of criminal case was under consideration constituted gross impropriety if not contempt of court" and that he therefore did not "feel justified in making any answer other than to say your information is largely incorrect and your deductions from that which is incorrect are entirely misleading."

What part was incorrect? What part was correct? He went bashful and wouldn't say but he can't say he didn't have his chance.

Justice Jackson berated Justice Black for failure to disqualify himself in a case in which his old law partner was counsel. Here, Moore's old partner was counsel for a client with an interest in the outcome as strong as the defendants' own interest.

Probation Violator Sent to OSR

Columbus Man Fails To Comply With Order

Fremont Gardner, 26, whose last address was listed as Columbus, was sentenced to one to seven years in the Mansfield reformatory yesterday afternoon by Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch.

Gardner was sentenced after he was found guilty of violation of the terms of his probation, granted Feb. 14, on his plea of guilty to grand larceny.

According to the records of Probation Officer Ralph Hughes, Gardner had not given a correct Mansfield address, said he worked for a Mansfield firm when actually he worked there three days and quit, received permission to visit his wife on the pretense she was ill, failed to make a monthly report, and failed to reimburse the people from whom he stole the ring on the original charge.

In pronouncing sentence, Judge Kalbfleisch told Gardner: "I told you you weren't going to get another chance."

YOUTH CITED

Also cited for violation of his probation was Joe S. Papay, 16, apprehended by police Friday night for intoxication.

Papay had been placed on four years probation last Feb. 2 on a plea of guilty to second-degree manslaughter in the death of David S. Protheroe. The car Papay was driving collided with Protheroe's motorcycle Sept. 7, 1947 on the Ashland road.

Judge Kalbfleisch extended Papay's probation period from four to five years.

Judge Kalbfleisch told Papay he was continuing the probation "because you've had a tough way to go. But I'm not going to let you go again."

HAPPY BIRTHDAY—

Birthday greetings are in order for Martin W. Brunner, 738 Andover road, who is celebrating his 36th birthday today. There will be a family party later this week to celebrate the occasion. Brunner, who is manager and secretary-treasurer of the Pioneer Storage company, has lived in Mansfield most of his life. He and his wife lived on his father's farm in Crawford county for 10 years, moving back to the city three years ago. Brunner has been with the Pioneer for about 18 years. He began working there while he was still in high school. He is a member of the University club, Mohican Sailing club, Our club, Westbrook Country club, and Rotary. His hobby is sailing and he keeps his sailboat at Charles Mill lake.

The News-Journal also extends congratulations to Frank Hamman, Mansfield's "perennial Santa Claus" and employe of the city sanitation department.

GOOD SAMARITAN—

Police Patrolman Earl Korn played Good Samaritan last night to a young man en route to Virginia to attend funeral services for his father. Stranded in Mansfield without funds, the man sought help from police. Korn bought him a meal and loaned him $5 for a bus ticket to Cincinnati. The man, who has been working in Indiana, said he had to get to Virginia by Friday.

FUTILE HUNT—

When the lights failed during yesterday's storm, more than one resident went to his basement to check electric fuses. In one home a Senior high student and his granddad spent several minutes switching fuses before discovering that the neighbors', lights also were out and concluding that it was a power failure rather than a fuse failure.

Memorial Funds OK'd

County commissioners have authorized payment of $50 each to nine patriotic organizations for purposes of Memorial Day observance.

Only organizations which apply, stating how the money will be used can obtain the grants, according to law.

Organizations which have asked for the $50 grants include O'Brien Post 326, American Legion, Shelby; George Broderick Post 291, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Shelby; Henry Wentz Camp 19, Sons of Union Veterans, Shelby; Catholic War Veterans, 1577, Shelby; Irvin Hiskey Post 535, American Legion, Bellville; Richland Detachment, Marine Corps League, Mansfield; Buckeye Division 112th Ammunition Train association, Mansfield; Charles Dick Camp 17, Spanish War Veterans, Mansfield; McLaughlin Camp 12, Sons of Union Veterans, Mansfield.

The commissioners set up funds for other veterans' and patriotic organizations in the county which meet the requirements.

Death Takes Mrs. Spayde

Mrs. Esther J. Spayde, 78, of 155 Poplar street, widow of Albert Spayde, died Tuesday night at People's hospital following an extended illness.

Born Dec. 24, 1869 near Loudonville, Mrs. Spayde had made her home in Mansfield for the past 46 years. She was a member of the Park Avenue Baptist church, the Women's Benefit association, the Women's Relief Corps and the Rebekah lodge.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Cleo Buchter of Mansfield and Mrs. O. J. Fink of Beloit, Wis.; one son, F. B. Thompson of Mansfield, cashier of the Railway Express agency here, six grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Services will be held at the Wappner funeral home Friday at 3 p. m., in charge of Rev. Albert L. Linder, former pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Officer To Quit In May

Joined Force 23 Years Ago

Detective Lee J. Remy said today he would retire next month.

Remy has been on the force longer than any other man except Police Chief Jesse J. Schwab. Remy joined the force May 8, 1925, and is eligible for retirement on pension May 8.

"I'm just going to take it easy," Remy said, "I'm going to take what I figure is a well-earned rest."

The 64-year-old detective who served under six chiefs starting with Herbert McClure during the past 23 years, served a three-month hitch before the first World War under Chief James Feeney.

After working as a deskman for three months, Remy returned to his civilian trade as an iron moulder. In 1922 Remy returned to municipal service, working for three years as a sanitary policeman.

LEE J. REMY

NAMED IN 1925

In 1925 he was appointed a plainclothesman and has worked at that job ever since.

Looking back on his long career, Remy said one of the most significant things he noted is the fact that more juveniles now are connected with serious crimes.

"Twenty years ago, only older people were involved in hold-ups and breaking and enterings and the like, but today more young people are committing the same type of crimes," he said.

Remy said that part of the blame could be placed on the movies and the radio which give youths ideas of how to commit crimes.

"People are still committing the same kinds of crimes, however," he said. "It has been my experience that crimes run in cycles. For instance first you get a series of burglaries, then women molesters, then hold-ups and several others, and then the cycle starts all over again."

Remy must submit his request for retirement on pension to the police pension board which will act upon the request.

Man Denies $114 Theft

James R. Hartshorne, 21, of Orrville, pleaded innocent to a grand larceny charge in municipal court today, waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the grand jury under $1,500 bond.

He was arrested yesterday by sheriff's deputies in connection with the theft of $114.26 from the home of John Pry, who lives on State Route 39 near Shelby.

Deputies, who asserted that Hartshorne had confessed the theft, said the money was stolen Monday between 4 and 5 p. m. from the Pry home.

Hartshorne works for the Darling company, Marysville, which buys dead stock. Deputies said Hartshorne was sent by the firm to the Pry residence to pick up a dead animal. The Prys were not at home and had left the back door open.

Deputies said he confessed he entered the house, found a billfold in a chest of drawers from which he took $33 in cash. And that he also took $40 in packaged dimes and the remainder in dimes stored in a pint jar.

The deputies reported they had recovered all the money.

'Peter Grimm' Wins Praise of Audience

By EILEEN DEWHURST

If audience reaction is a good indication, the Community Players' final presentation of the season was a success last night. The cast of David Belasco's "Peter Grimm" was called back for two curtain calls.

The play, completing the Players' twenty-second season, will be given again tonight in John Simpson auditorium.

It got off to a rather slow start last night largely as the result of late comers in the audience of 700 whose noisy entrance made some of the lines almost inaudible.

But with the quieting of the audience and the entrance of Herbert Schettler as Peter Grimm the cast seemed to gain assurance and the rest of the play went smoothly.

Schettler, who has been with the Community Players since they started 22 years ago, gave an outstanding performance. He played the stubborn, but kind old man who tries to arrange the lives of those he loves. His scarcastic and witty comments did not once fail to draw a laugh from the audience.

Roberta Monahan as Catherine played a difficult role well. The almost too-sweet speeches of Catherine tended to handicap her real acting ability.

Don Fatkin as Frederik, Peter's nephew, succeeded in making the audience dislike him thoroughly. His comments about his dead uncle in Act II brought gasps of horror from the audience.

'POOR LITTLE BOY'

William was played so convincingly by Ronald Smith, a member of the Children's Theater, that more than one woman in the audience murmured "that poor little boy."

The supporting roles were well played, particularly in the scene in which Grimm's will is read.

The members of the Children's Theater, who appeared briefly as the Sunday school class, sang lustily and with an apparently complete lack of stage fright.

The scenery and lighting added to the realism of the play. The thunder and lightning were particularly effective.

Guardsmen Paid $1,500

For the second time since their organization last October, members of Company F, 145th regiment, 37th division, Ohio National Guard, were paid last night.

The payroll totaled about $1,500 with an average of $40 for each of the 38 enlisted men and officers.

Summer uniforms were issued by Lt. Joseph B. Denig. These included fatigue and OD uniforms in suntan, one of the two colors now used by the National Guard.

Plans were made for the company's participation in the annual Memorial day parade. Arrangements are in charge of Capt. C. A. Boughton and Lt. Denig.

Instruction on the Browning automatic rifle, field stripping and cleaning phases, was given by Sgt. Elmer Bernard. Men held their regular drill.

Play Scheduled For May 7-8

Madison high seniors will present their best class talent May 7 and 8 when they give the senior play, "The House Nobody Lived In."

Both performances will be presented at 8:15 p. m. in the school auditorium. Mrs. Paul Daugherty, English instructor at the high school, has charge of direction.

Included in the cast will be Dick Ernsberger, Shirley Christiansen, Bob Wilson, Geraldine Sauder, Raymond Pryor, Emily Campbell, Dorothy Hulit, Mary Miller, Clara Sabo, Dick Davies, LaDonna Metz and Tom Daugherty.

'Y' Sponsors Lectures On Marriage

Three YWCA groups will hear talks tomorrow by the founder of the widely-publicized marriage institute.

Rev. Gilbert Applehof jr., rector of St. Thomas Episcopal church at Berea, will talk to members of the Home Builders' club at 3 p. m. on "Family Relations."

At 7 p. m., he will address the Blue Tri and Young Business Women's clubs on "Preparation for Marriage."

He won wide attention by the six-day marriage institutes he conducted at Bay City and Detroit, Mich., and in Berea.

In addition to his "marriage institutes," Rev Applehof has had wide experience in teen-age and young adult work. He has lectured and counselled on marriage and family relations problems many times.

His appearance here will be the final discussion in a series on 'Boy and Girl Relations" which the Blue Tri clubs have sponsored.

County Buys Road Markers

Purchase of 122 road signs was authorized today by the county commissioners on recommendation of County Engineer Walter E. Rusk.

The signs, to cost $416.50, are to be purchased from the Cataphote corporation of Toledo, and paid for out of the road fund.

The order calls for 24 each of the following: "Road Closed," at $3.25 each; "Detour," at $3.50 each; and "Arrows," at $1.75 each; and 50 reflector signs at $1.25 each.

Newman School Principal Named P-TA Vice President

Robert Hartman, principle of Newman school, was chosen vice president of the Mansfield P-TA council at its regular meeting last night. Mrs. Paul Old was named secretary and Floyd F. Smith was elected treasurer to fill the unexpired term left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Howard Wenning.

Mrs. E. G. Pankow, president of the council, still has another year to serve.

Mrs. Howard Stauffer, health chairman, announced that clinics for pre-school children will be set up May 2 to 25.

A training school for all officers, committee chairman and P-TA members will be held June 4.

Because of the interest in the Edwin Strawbridge production "Simple Simon" shown here recently, the council again will sponsor a Strawbridge presentation next year, when "Little Red Riding Hood" comes to Mansfield.

The program included a talk by R. Y. Davis on the "Listening Post," which he, as state radio chairman, has organized throughout the state.

A little "German Band," comprising six Senior high school boys, Richard and Eugene Griesbach, John Corcoran, Dick Elliott, Jim Kibler and Tom Pankow, sang several members.

Short dramatic skits were given by P-TA members. The box lunches which members brought for the social hour were laid out in picnic style for refreshments.

The next meeting of the council will be held May 18 at John Simpson junior high.
